THE LATEST.

Nearly 28,000 votes were registered in Louisville yesterday, the Democrats showing a loss and the Republicans a gain, as compared with the previous year. The new law requiring the presentation of a certificate to each voterprevailed. The total registration was but slightly less than for the first two days of last year. To-day is the last regular day to register.

According to the Government's report the temperature for the past week has been favorable for maturing and harvesting late crops. The conditions were favorable throughout the corn belt. Good progress is being made in picking cotton, which continues to open rapidly. High winds have done much damage to apples in New England and the Atlantic States.

At Newport Republican registration officers gave out certificates with the picture of a candidate on them. This is a violation of the election laws and may result in invalidating the registration in the precincts in which it was done. The grand jury will be asked to investigate the matter.

Charles Geitrell, who, while crazed with fever, killed four men at O'Brien's Landing, Mo., Sunday night, surrendered to the Mayor of Columbus, Ky., yesterday morning. He admits he committed a crime but says he knows nothing of it. He will be taken to Charleston, Mo.

Volney T. Malott, receiver of the Terre Haute and Indianapolis railroad, confirms a report that the receivership of the line will terminate about October 30. After that time the road probably will be merged into the Pennsylvania system.

DEATH

Comes As a Relief to Days of Suffering.

POSTMASTER GENERAL PAYNE

DIES AFTER A WEEK'S ILLNESS OF HEART TROUBLE.

UNCONSCIOUS FOR SIX HOURS.

The Distinguished Patient Passes Peacefully From Life To the Eternal Sleep.

END OF A NOTABLE CAREER.

Washington, Oct. 4.—Henry C. Payne, Postmaster General of the United States, a member of the National Republican Committee, a stalwart of his party, with the history of which both in his home State and nationally he had been identified for many years, died at his apartments at the Arlington Hotel at 6:10 o'clock to-night, aged sixty years. The death and its cause was announced in the following official bulletin issued by the attending physicians:

The Postmaster General died at 6:10 p. m. He died peacefully, without a struggle.

Cause of death, disease of mitral valve and dilation of the heart.

P. M. RIXEY,
G. LLOYD MAGRUDER,
C. T. GRAYSON.

Mr. Payne had been in poor health for at least two years, but his last illness covered only seven days, an attack of heart trouble last week precipitating the end at a time when after a rest he seemed to have recovered a small measure of his vitality impaired by years of arduous labor. Death this afternoon came after nearly six hours of unconsciousness.

The President's Tribute.

The last official caller to inquire as to Mr. Payne's condition was President Roosevelt, and he had been gone only about ten minutes when the stricken member of his Cabinet expired. Secretary Had had called at the Payne apartments a few minutes before the President made his visit. Neither entered the sickroom. As Mr. Roosevelt was leaving about 6 o'clock he spoke feelingly of Mr. Payne to the newspaper men gathered in front of the hotel as "the sweetest, most lovable and most trustful man I ever knew." Mrs. Roosevelt, accompanied by Capt. Cowles, also was a caller at the family apartments of the Paynes during the late afternoon.

Around Mr. Payne's bedside at the time of his death were his devoted wife, the Rev. Dr. Dunlap, pastor of St. John's Episcopal church; Maj. and Mrs. W. S. Cameron, of Jamestown, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Cameron, of Milwaukee; Charles L. Jones and Miss Louise Jones, relatives; Private Secretary Whitney; Miss Marie Barbiere, an old companion of Mrs. Payne; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Mason, of Washington, old-time friends of Mr. and Mrs. Payne, and the faithful colored messenger at the Department of the Postmaster General.

When the Postmaster General had breathed his last Dr. Magruder led Mrs. Payne out of the room. It was stated that she had stood up bravely under the heavy strain.

Hope Had Been Abandoned.

The last day had been one during which practically all hope had been abandoned for some hours. The approach of dissolution began during the noon hour, when the sick man lost consciousness and no longer recognized those whom he had attempted to cheer during his illness by saying to them that he was all right. When Mrs. Payne saw that the end was near she summoned the Rev. Dr. Dunlap, of St. John's Episcopal church, and at her request he read at the bedside of the dying man, Psalm 130, "Out of the Deep," and then repeated the prayers the Episcopal church provides shall be read at the bedside of those about to pass away.

Funeral services will be held at St. John's Episcopal church, this city, next Friday morning, and at 3:15 that afternoon the body will be taken to the Pennsylvania railroad station and placed aboard the private car of President A. J. Earling, of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, who tendered the use of the car, and announced that it would be here by to-morrow morning. The remains should arrive at Milwaukee Saturday evening, and services will be held next Sunday at the All Saints' Episcopal church there. A message has been sent to the Right Rev. Isaac L. Nicholson, the Bishop of Milwaukee, who is now at a convention in Boston, asking him if he can officiate. Interment will be at the Forest Home cemetery, Milwaukee.

Mrs. Payne has expressed a desire that the services be as simple as possible. Further plans for the funeral will be decided on to-morrow.

The death of the Postmaster General came as the result really of a succession of sinking spells, due to a weak heart, that enfeebled the sick man until finally the heart literally gave out.

MR. PAYNE'S SUCCESSOR.

George B. Cortelyou Will Be Appointed Postmaster General.

Washington, Oct. 4.—In succession to Mr. Payne, George Bruce Cortelyou, former Secretary of the Department of Commerce and Labor and now chairman of the Republican National Committee, will become Postmaster General.

Mr. Cortelyou's appointment as head of the Post-office Department was determined on several months ago by President Roosevelt when Mr. Payne indicated to the President his desire to retire from the department on account of the precarious state of his health. Mr. Payne would have resigned the portfolio long ago had it not been for the pending investigation of the affairs of the department. He felt, however, and said many times to his friends, that he could not relinquish the duties of the office while the investigation was pending and expressed his determination to carry the investigation to a conclusion.

It is the understanding now that Mr. Cortelyou will assume the duties of Postmaster General as soon as he conveniently can after the close of the pending campaign. In the interim the responsibilities of directing the affairs of the Post-office Department will devolve on Mr. Wynne, who has just returned with Mrs. Wynne and their two young daughters from an extended trip to Europe. He will continue as Acting Postmaster General until such time as the President may designate formally the successor to Mr. Payne.

Under the law, the President is required to make such an appointment within thirty days.

Long In Failing Health.

Postmaster General Payne had been in failing health for two years, although the illness which carried him away was of only about a week's duration. He had returned only recently from a Western trip, and despite a slight cold, apparently was in better physical condition than he had been for some time previously. Mr. Payne himself felt greatly benefited by his last Western trip, and on returning here at once plunged into the work of his office. He was at his desk at the Post-office Department last Tuesday, where a number of his friends spoke of his apparently better health. He attended the Cabinet meeting that day. He passed a restless night, however, and, although he spent Wednesday forenoon at his office, he showed that he was feeling badly. Stopping at the White House on his way he returned to his hotel for luncheon, and felt so ill that he took to his bed, from which he never again arose. Medical assistance was summoned that evening, but he grew worse, and Dr. Magruder on leaving the sick room Thursday evening announced the serious character of the illness, stating that recently decided symptoms of heart trouble had developed. Dr. Rixey, Surgeon General of the Navy, was called in and telegrams were sent to relatives announcing the gravity of the Postmaster General's condition. Throughout the following day, Friday, his condition remained extremely grave and twice the end seemed near.

Heroic Remedies Employed.

Heroic remedies in moderate doses were resorted to with gratifying results. Dr. C. T. Grayson, a naval surgeon, was called into the case and later in the day Dr. William Osler, a heart specialist and diagnostician, of Baltimore, was called into consultation. On Friday the sinking spells began, and a bulletin was issued announcing that the feeble action of the heart was the cause of great alarm, and a later one stated that he had had a number of sinking spells. That night he gained more rest than on any night since he had been stricken, but early Saturday morning there was a recurrence of the sinking spells.

He rallied with the application of stimulants and restoratives, but soon grew weaker again.

Thus from the beginning the friends of Mr. Payne had cause for the gravest apprehension, and practically not a ray of hope was held out for his recovery.

Saturday night was a severe tax on the remaining vitality of the patient, and during Sunday afternoon his condition became so critical that the relatives were hurriedly summoned to the bedside. Mr. Payne, however, rallied under vigorous treatment and he was able to take nourishment and to converse with the doctors and to speak to Mrs. Payne. An unusual degree of improvement was reported by the doctors.

A Day of Contrasts.

Sunday was a day of sharp contrasts. In the forenoon and afternoon he suffered a succession of sinking spells and at one time the relatives were summoned to the sick chamber, and at Mrs. Payne's request a minister was called to the bedside. A rally followed and later in the day the doctors announced a decided improvement. This condition continued throughout Sunday night until 3 o'clock Monday morning, when one of the most serious of the relapses occurred.

The serious relapse of Monday morning was a severe strain on the already weakened constitution of the patient. During the afternoon the information came from his room that he was rapidly losing ground, that life was being sustained artificially, and that he was believed then to be near death's door. The official bulletin issued at 6 p. m. summing up the situation for the day stated that there had been no improvement during the day, and that the heart's action was kept up by the repeated use of arterial stimulants.

NATIVE OF MASSACHUSETTS.

First Service For Uncle Sam Was To Sweep a Post-office.

Henry C. Payne came from old Puritan stock, and his ancestors date back to the early colonial days. He was born in the town of Ashfield, Franklin county, Mass., on Nov. 23, 1843.

His boyhood was spent in the village of Shelburne Falls, Mass., where he received a common school education and later an academic education. Old residents of the village still remember young Payne as an unusally bright chap, with a bushy head of hair, quick and alert, and undersized. He was studious and a worker, and at the age of

TAMMANY

Nominations For Congress Judiciously Made.

ALL GOOD, TRUE DEMOCRATS,

AND JUDGE PARKER IS PLEASED WITH THEIR PERSONNEL.

TOM WATSON IN NEW YORK.

Democrats Who Call To See the Populist Leader Are Denied Admission.

SENATOR GORMAN'S RETURN.

New York, Oct. 4.—[Special.]—This week promises to be a good one for the Democrats. The presence of Judge Parker in the city and the Democratic nominations by Tammany have infused a new feeling in the campaign.

It is admitted on all sides that the Tammany nominations could not have been better. They are all good and true Democrats, and have the confidence of the people. Judge Parker expressed himself to-day as gratified with the congressional nominations, and said that he felt assured that they would aid the State and national ticket.

Watson Assisting Roosevelt.

Mr. Thomas E. Watson, the Populist candidate for President, is in the city. He is being chaperoned and well looked after by the managers of the National Republican Campaign Committee. There is not a doubt that Watson is running in the interest of Roosevelt. All the signs point that way. The only encouragement he receives is from the Republicans, and Democrats who called to see him to-day to remonstrate against his course were denied admission. The general opinion here is that Watson is running in the interest of Roosevelt, and it is not believed that he will cut much figure in this State.

Judge Parker, in order to settle the question definitely in regard to public speaking during the campaign, stated positively to-day that he would not make any speeches either at the Manhattan Club reception to-morrow night or elsewhere.

Senator Gorman Returns.

Senator Gorman returned to the city to-day, after an absence since Friday. The Senator always goes to his home in Maryland and spends his Saturdays and Sundays. He states that he has not given out any interview upon the political situation, but believes that the Democrats have a good chance to win.

The Hon. John Sharp Williams, who has been hard at work here supervising the campaign material of the National Democratic Committee, left for Louisville to-night, where he will speak Thursday. Mr. Williams is exceedingly pleased with the Democratic prospects in the East, and believes that Judge Parker will be elected.

O. D. STEALEY.

JUDGE PARKER'S CALLERS

Are Numerous and He Has a Busy Day—Mr. Mack's Prediction.

New York, Oct. 4.—More prominent Democrats to-day called upon Judge Parker than on any previous day since the St. Louis convention.

In the list were such men as James H. Eckels, of Chicago, Controller of the Currency under former President Cleveland; G. H. Morgan, of Connecticut, Treasurer of the United States under the same administration; Robert Van Wyck, former Mayor of New York; William Randolph Hearst, Senators A. O. Brown, of Georgia, and William J. Stone, of Missouri; Capt. Richmond Pearson Hobson, of Alabama; former Senator Edward F. Murphy, Jr., of Troy; former Gov. James E. Campbell, of Ohio; James L. Woodward, of New York, president of the Hanover National Bank, and former Representative C. A. Pugsly, of Peekskill, N. Y., president of the Westchester County National Bank; John R. McLean, National Committeeman from Ohio; Norman E. Mack, member of the National Committee from New York; Representative Timothy D. Sullivan, of New York; Timothy P. Sullivan, vice chairman of the Board of Aldermen of New York; August Belmont, of the National Executive Committee; Thomas E. Ryan, National Committeeman from Wisconsin; William E. Sheehan, chairman of the Executive Committee, and Thomas Taggart, chairman of the National Committee.

Judge Parker concluded his bsuy day with a dinner at the Hotel Seville, having as his guests Mr. Hearst, Mr. Taggart and Mr. Sheehan. The dinner lasted for nearly three hours, and every phase of the campaign was gone over.

Norman E. Mack, member of the Democratic Committee of New York, speaking of the outlook, said to-day:

"The State of New York will return a majority of 75,000 to 100,000 for both the Democratic national and State tickets. The reports received by the National Committee from various sections of the country have been most satisfactory, especially from the so-called doubtful States. During the next five weeks the Democrats will conduct, in the State of New York, the most harmonious, progressive, aggressive and successful campaign ever known in this State."

MR. JEWETT IS AMUSED

At the Demand of the Columbia Club For His Resignation.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—The directors of the Columbia Club, who recently demanded the resignation of the Hon. Charles L. Jewett because he has returned to the Democratic fold, waited in vain to-day for some word from Col. Jewett, and this evening announced that steps would be taken at once for his expulsion. It was said that Jewett is inclined to make fun of the demand for his resignation, but that he will learn that the directors are in earnest. There is an intimation that opposition to extreme measures would be found in the club but for the constitutional provision that limits membership to Republicans. Still, Jewett has friends in the club who deprecate such action, though powerless to prevent it.

BLEEDING THE POSTMASTERS

For the Benefit of the Republican Congressional Candidate.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Newell Sanders, chairman of the Congressional Executive Committee, has sent circular letters to all postmasters in this district, requesting each to pay a specified amount to the campaign fund of Robert Sharp. On account of the fact that all of these postmasters are asked for a certain amount, this call is universally considered an assessment. Several of these letters have been sent to newspapers by postmasters who received them.

Mr. Sharp, the Republican congressional candidate, is postmaster in this city.

WILLIAM RANDOLPH HEARST

Urges Democratic Clubs To Special Activity and Energy.

New York, Oct. 4.—William Randolph Hearst, president of the National Association of Democratic Clubs, has issued an address to that association urging upon its members "special activity and untiring energy from now until the closing of the polls." Mr. Hearst's address says in part:

"I hope that every official and every individual member of every club in our association will do all that he can—and more than ever before—to promote and expound the interests and the beliefs of genuine Jeffersonian Democracy. I call upon all members of the clubs to begin earnest campaign work immediately, to organize where organization is necessary and especially to respond promptly and energetically to every suggestion that may come from the national management of the Democratic party.

"I have offered my services and those of my newspapers to the managers of the Democracy and insofar as I have felt justified as your president in so doing I have offered the much greater influence of the National Association of Democratic Clubs, pledging the honest co-operation of all the members to further effort on the lines of that genuine Democracy in which a majority of the American people believe."

Republican Notification.

Olean, N. Y., Oct. 4.—Lieut. Gov. Frank Wayland Higgins, the nominee for Governor and his associates on the Republican State ticket, were to-day formally notified of their nomination. The ceremonies were held on the veranda of the home of Lieut. Gov. Higgins. Senator Chauncey M. Depew, made an address in which he eulogized Mr. Higgins and discussed the national candidates and the leading issues of the campaign.

Durbin To Welcome Delegates.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 4.—Delegates to the biennial convention of the National League of Republican Clubs are rapidly arriving and several have opened headquarters for the State delegations. The convention will open tomorrow morning. Gov. Durbin will welcome the delegates at 10:30 and Sid B. Redding, of Little Rock, Ark., will respond.

Senator Clapp In Indiana.

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 4.—A large audience greeted Senator Moses Clapp, of Minnesota, who to-night delivered his second campaign speech in Indiana, at the Coliseum in this city. The Purdue University Republican Marching Club, accompanied by a band, led a procession which escorted the Senator to the hall.

Populists File Petition.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 4.—The petition in behalf of the State and electoral tickets nominated by the Populist party was filed to-day with the Secretary of State. It contains over 11,000 names, and every county in the State is represented. Alfred J. Boulton, of Kings county, was named for Governor.

Foraker At Headquarters.

New York, Oct. 4.—Senator Foraker, of Ohio, was at Republican headquarters to-day on his way to Washington from Massachusetts, where he had been attending the funeral of the late Senator Hoar. The Ohio Senator will make a number of political speeches in West Virginia and Indiana.

Beveridge In Washington.

Washington, Oct. 4.—Senator Albert J. Beveridge discussed political issues at a Republican meeting in People's Hall here to-night. At noon to-day Senator Beveridge addressed the employes of the Baltimore and Ohio shops. His speech was confined to a discussion of the labor conditions.

A Rally In Baltimore.

Baltimore, Oct. 4.—The Democrats of Baltimore had their first formal campaign rally to-night. A large crowd assembled in the Lyric to listen to addresses by United States Senator C. A. Culberson, of Texas, and Senator-elect Isidor Rayner, of Maryland.

No Agreement Reached.

Wilmington, Del., Oct. 4.—Republican politicians deny the stories sent out last night from Dover that an agreement between the two factions in this State on a common ticket had been reached. The suggested conference did not take place to-day.

Will Support Alva Adams.

Denver, Oct. 4.—Judge Frank W. Owers to-day declined the People's party nomination for the governorship, and announced his intention to vote for Alva Adams, the Democratic candidate.

Entertained By President.

Washington, Oct. 4.—President Roosevelt to-day entertained at luncheon at the White House the Rev. Dr. Charles Cuthbert Hall, president of the Union Theological Seminary at New York; Bishop Charles H. Brent, of the Episcopal Church in the Philippines; Gen. Robert Shaw Oliver, Assistant Secretary of War; Lieut. Emmons, U. S. N., retired; Commissioner of Corporations James R. Garfield and William Dudley Foulke.

Democratic Registration For First Day.

SMALL REPUBLICAN GAINS.

TOTAL OF NEARLY 28,000 VOTES RECORDED.

CERTIFICATE FOR EACH MAN.

New Law Causes No Inconvenience—Only One Complaint Was Made.

TO-DAY OFFERS LAST CHANCE.

YESTERDAY'S FIGURES.

Democratic	14,202
Republican	10,438
Independent	3,222

Returns from every precinct in Louisville for the first day of registration show that the vote was almost as heavy for the one day as for the first two days of last year. The difference was only 672 votes, that many more being cast last year. The Republicans made a gain of 1,129. The total number of votes registered yesterday was 27,862.

The large vote registered surprised everyone, especially on account of the new law which requires certificates of registration to be furnished each voted. It was expected that the making out of the registration certificates would require much additional time and would act as a drag on the registering. This was not found to be true; the voting going along as rapidly as ever and the certificates causing little trouble.

The following are the figures for each ward, showing the votes for each of the parties and the number of those who decline dto give their party affiliation.

Registration By Wards.

	Dem.	Rep.	Ind.
First ward	1,481	1,638	148
Second ward	1,063	617	122
Third ward	1,571	1,424	256
Fourth ward	699	660	200
Fifth ward	1,060	806	371
Sixth ward	714	462	325
Seventh ward	829	304	182
Eighth ward	748	538	192
Ninth ward	535	458	158
Tenth ward	1,072	1,005	278
Eleventh ward	2,218	1,427	436
Twelfth ward	2,212	1,639	564
Total	14,202	10,438	3,222

In making a comparison of the vote for the first two days of last year with the vote of the first day this year it is necessary to remember that this year only two days are set aside for registration, while last year there were three days. The vote which went in on the two days last year practically must go in on the first day this year. In view of the heavy vote yesterday it is probable that the total of registration will be larger than last year, although not large for a presidential year.

The Democratic vote as registered last year during the first two days was 13,660, as compared with 14,202 for this year. The Republican vote for 1902 was 9,974, as compared with 10,438 for this year. The independent vote was about the same, the totals for the two years being 3,693 for 1903 and 3,222 for 1904. The Democratic loss was 665, while the Republicans gained 464.

Tenth ward	533	478	119
Eleventh ward	1,643	722	384
Twelfth ward	2,305	1,576	607
Totals	14,867	9,974	3,693

In 1900, the last presidential election, the Democrats cast 21,268 votes, while the Republican vote was 16,742. The vote was a large one, and some change was shown in the vote as cast from that as registered. The total vote as registered last year, for all three days, was as follows: Democratic, 20,584; Republican, 17,884; Independent, 5,475.

To-day is the last day of registration, and any person who is in the city who does not register some time before 9 o'clock to-night will not be allowed to vote on election day. It is important that all those eligible to vote go to the polls to-day and register. The Democratic Committee has issued a call to all Democrats to register, calling attention to the importance of the election and the questions which are involved.

How New Law Worked.

Registration certificates, required under the new law, had less effect than was expected on the rapidity of registration, and the first day of the registration for the election of November 8 was little different from former years, when no certificates were required. The voters registered rapidly and the certificates were provided with greater speed than was expected.

The vote will be light this year, it is said by those who are familiar with the conditions. Little interest was taken, except that the men seemed to display a desire to get their names registered early. The Republicans were out in full force, and large number of negroes were registered in each precinct. The negroes were all careful to secure their certificates.

Election officers adopted a plan of filling out the registration certificates in blank before the polls opened and during lulls in the registration, this plan saving much time. Instead of each officer having to write his name after the voter had gone into the booth, he found the certificate already signed, and the only thing necessary was the filling in of his name and address. This plan was used in some places. In others all the officers except the clerk signed before the voter registered, the clerk signing afterward, just before the certificate was handed to the voter. By using these methods the work was greatly expedited, and the registration went through with the usual speed.

Early Cry of Fraud.

An effort on the part of the Republicans to start a cry of fraud and back it up with the Federal Court fell to the ground yesterday after Jackson Jacob Flint, a negro, had sworn out a warrant for Charles Molle, Charles Heeb and others unknown, charging them with intimidation and taking his voting certificate with force and arms. When William Blades, deputy United States Marshal, attempted to serve the warrants, Flint had his certificate and was unable to identify the men who he claimed had stolen it from him.

Flint lives at 253 Pearl street, and appeared in the office of R. D. Hill, the United States District Attorney, yesterday afternoon. With him were Dr. T. H. Baker and Clayton Blakey. Flint told his story of how, after he had registered and received his certificate it had been taken away from him by force. Mr. Hill said that if his certificate had been so taken away it constituted an offense, and an affidavit was drawn charging Molle, Heeb and others unknown with conspiring to intimidate Flint and taking his certificate of registration from him. The warrant was issued by Henry F. Cassin, United States Commissioner, on the affidavit, and it was put in Mr. Blade's hands to serve.

The Marshal went to Floyd and Jefferson streets, where the alleged theft of the certificate had been committed, and found Flint there. He asked the negro to point out Heeb or Molle, but Flint said he could not identify them. Mr. Blades returned and reported the failure of his mission. Flint told him, he said, that his certificate had been returned, and showed it to the Marshal.

PEACE

Strongly Urged Among Nations of the World.

WORK OF PEACE CONGRESS.

ADDRESS BY EDWIN MEAD FAVORING REDUCTION OF BIG NAVIES.

ROBERT T. PAINE PRESIDENT.

Boston, Oct. 4.—A general supplication, coupled with a demand, almost, for the institution of peace among the nations of the world, was the keynote to-day of the first deliberative session of the Thirteenth International Peace Congress. Delegates from the great countries of the globe, all prominent in their home lands, engaged in the proceedings, giving to the occasion all the dignity and importance of a momentous international assembly.

Work Done In the Past.

A feature of the opening session was the receipt of an elaborate report from the International Peace Bureau for 1904, in which was reviewed what had been attained in the direction of peace by the peace workers of the world during the year passed, and also was set forth the present war conditions of the world necessitating correctionary measures by those desiring the establishment of universal concord. The suggestion was made that some collective move might be made to induce the Russo-Japanese belligerents to return to peace.

Edwin D. Mead, the chairman of the organization committee of the congress, delivered the opening address of the meeting, speaking an earnest word in favor of the reduction of great navies, and a general disarmament among nations.

Election of Officers.

Robert Treat Paine, Sr., of Boston, was elected president of the congress, and Dr. Benjamin F. Trueblood, also of this city, secretary.

Responses were made by one delegate from each of the countries represented at the congress, including Alderman Thomas Snape, of Liverpool, for Great Britain.

Mr. Snape referred particularly to Secretary of State Hay's appearance at yesterday's peace meeting as the representative of the United States, and took occasion to remark upon what an astounding thing it would be considered in England did the British Minister of Foreign Affairs officially represent Great Britain at a similar meeting.

A general commendation of President Roosevelt's call for another Hague conference marked the other addresses.

Congratulations Extended.

Among the letters and cablegrams received by the congress and announced to-day were those from Frau Solenka, of Munich, Germany; Elizabeth Stuart Phelps Ward, Carl Schurz, Frederick Passy, of France, and Dr. Henry W. Warren, of Colorado.

A noticeably large number of greetings were received from Baptist denominations and conferences in various parts of the country, including Topeka, Kan., Pittsburg, Pa., and the District of Columbia. Memorials were also received from the New Orleans board of trade and the Philadelphia Board of trade.

Mass-Meetings At Night.

Two mass-meetings under the auspices of the congress were held to-night. At one were considered the work and influence of The Hague tribunal.

Oscar S. Strauss, formerly United States Minister to Turkey, and a member of The Hague Court, presided. Mr. Strauss advocated a revision of The Hague treaty so that it might be rendered certain that when nations enter into a struggle, some one of them would take the initiative in referring the differences to The Hague tribunal.

The other mass-meeting was conducted by the Christian Endeavor Societies, with the Rev. Francis E. Clark as chairman.

ALASKAN TELEGRAPH SYSTEM COMPLETED.

Shore End Connections Will Be Completed Within a Few Days and Cable Opened.

Washington, Oct. 4.—Gen. Greely has received a dispatch from Maj. Edgar Russel, of the signal corps, announcing that the Burnside, which has been engaged in laying a cable from Valdez, Alaska, buoyed the eastern cable end at the mouth of Sitka harbor on Monday afternoon. It will require several days to make the shore end connections in the narrow passage of Sitka harbor and throw open the cable to commercial business.

This completes the Alaskan telegraph system, which has been under construction for the past three years, during which time about 4,000 miles of land lines and submarine cables have been constructed and laid, and it brings the Nome and Bering Strait regions in direct communication with the United States over an all-American route. This system contains the first submarine cable of American manufacture, and the length is sufficient to extend from Newfoundland to Ireland.

YELLOW PINE DEALERS ORGANIZE AT MACON.

Macon, Ga., Oct. 4.—At a meeting of representatives of the yellow pine sash, door and blind interests of the Southern States held to-day in this city, an organization was perfected, to be known as the Yellow Pine Sash, Door and Manufacturing Association. Over twenty firms were represented, and the States of South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Florida, Mississippi and Arkansas furnished the majority of the members. David Woodward, of Atlanta, is president.

The object of this organization is to secure uniformity in grades of goods, to secure uniformity in railroad rates and to reform and correct abuses of the trade. The next meeting will be November 16 in Birmingham, Ala.

GALE ON NEWFOUNDLAND COAST WRECKS VESSELS.

St. Johns, N. F., Oct. 4.—The fishing schooner Alliance has been totally wrecked at Trepassy. Her crew of fifteen men had only left the vessel five minutes when she sank. The French fishing schooner Georges Paul is ashore at Port Au Port and will be a total wreck. Her crew were thirty-six hours in boats before they could reach a place of safety. It is feared that other wrecks will be reported when news of the work of the gale is received from more remote sections.

SCHLEY

Registers In Order To Vote Democratic Ticket.

HE HAS NOT VOTED FOR YEARS

REQUESTED TO MAKE CAMPAIGN SPEECHES IN MARYLAND.

ROOSEVELT TO A RIFLEMAN.

Washington, Oct 4.—[Special.]—Admiral Winfield Scott Schley went over to Annapolis, Md., this morning and registered in order that he may cast his ballot for Parker and Davis five weeks from to-day.

The Admiral has not cast a vote in many years, but claims Annapolis as his legal residence, and is therefore entitled to vote there. He is a stanch Democrat and desires to contribute his vote to the success of the party this year.

The wholly uncalled for action of President Roosevelt in reviewing the findings of the Schley Board of Inquiry and siding against Admiral Dewey's decision for Admiral Schley has been one of the important factors in again placing the State of Maryland safely in the Democratic column.

Asked To Make Speeches.

Admiral Schley has been asked to make a few speeches for the Democratic party, but it is not very likely he will accept. While he has the success of the party very much at heart, he doubts the propriety of actively engaging in a campaign against an Administration which has sought every opportunity to rob him of the glory he gained in the eyes of the American people at Santiago.

Rural Free Delivery Service.

Tennessee rural free delivery service has been ordered established November 1 as follows: Cheap Hill, Cheatham county, with one carrier; Hickory Point, Montgomery county, with two carriers; Woodford, Montgomery county, with one carrier.

President Congratulates Marksman.

The President to-day gave out the subjoined letter to private Howard Geusch, of the First New Jersey Regiment. The President takes a great interest in rifle practice. He wrote the letter about the same date that he issued the call for the International Peace Conference:

White House, Washington, D. C., Sept. 24, 1904.—My Dear Sir: I have just been informed that you have won the President's match for the military championship of the United States of America. I wish to congratulate you in person, and, through you, not only the First regiment of the National Guard of New Jersey, but the entire National Guard of New Jersey. As a nation we must depend upon our volunteer soldier in time of trial; and, therefore, the members of the National Guard fill a high function of usefulness. Of course, a soldier who cannot shoot is a soldier who counts for very little in battle, and all credit is due to those who keep up the standard of marksmanship. I congratulate you, both on your skill and upon your possession of the qualities of perseverance and determination in long practice, by which alone this skill could have been brought to its high point of development. With all good wishes, believe me, sincerely yours,

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

"Bobtail" and "Straight" Flushes.

"Of course, I'm not familiar with poker and poker terms—everybody knows that—but I do know enough about them from what players have told me to feel that my views have been grossly misrepresented," said Representative Cooper, of Texas, when he called at the White House to-day to ask about some business in his district. "Yesterday I spoke of the Democratic chances in November next as being pretty good—something like drawing a bobtail flush, I believe I put it. I was made to compare these chances to a 'straight flush.' My information, gathered strictly from men who have played the game, is that a bobtail flush is not difficult to 'fill to.' I believe this is the term, while a straight flush is something rarely done. At any rate, there is a vast difference in the two expressions, and I desire to stick to the 'bobtail' flush as representing Democratic prospects at this time. The party is in good fighting trim and will give the Republicans some campaigning they will long remember before the balloting takes place next month."

ROGERS IS GIVEN HIS RELEASE AT OMAHA.

Danville Man Exonerated of All Responsibility For Fire In Which Horses Were Burned.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Thomas Rogers, of Danville, Ky., the attendant who was with the horses belonging to W. C. Carling, of St. Paul, when they were burned to death in the Northwestern railroad yards at Blair, Neb., Sunday morning, and who was arrested and held at the city jail on suspicion of being responsible for the fire, has been released.

After questioning him sharply about the burning of the horses, the police became convinced that Rogers was in no wise responsible for the fire.

PROMINENT MEN ON THE CHILD LABOR COMMITTEE.

New York, Oct. 4.—The executive committee of the National Child Labor Committee listened to-day to Secretary Samuel M. Lindsay's report. It contained an account of Owen R. Lovejoy's investigations of child labor conditions in Pennsylvania and in New Jersey.

Several important additions have been made to the committee, including the following:

Dr. Felix Adler, William H. Baldwin, Jr., Alexander J. Cassatt, Cardinal Gibbons, Grover Cleveland, Robert W. DeForest, Isaac N. Seligman, Hoke Smith, the Rev. Dr. C. B. Wilmer, of Atlanta.

A NEW APPOINTMENT FOR BENJ. H. RIDGELY.

Washington, Oct. 4.—President Roosevelt to-day appointed Julius G. Lay as Consul General at Canton in succession to Robert M. McWade, removed. Mr. Lay formerly was American Consul at Barcelona. Benjamin H. Ridgely, American Consul at Nantes, France, was appointed Consul General at Barcelona to succeed Mr. Lay.

To Confer About the Strike.

Fall River, Mass., Oct. 4.—The cotton manufacturers to-day agreed to meet the labor leaders in conference over the present strike situation. The conference will probably take place next Thursday.

NO NEED

Of the Big Stick In the Panama Affair,

SAYS FORMER SENATOR HILL.

HE DISCUSSES THE "LAWLESSNESS OF THE PRESIDENT."

ANALYSIS OF HIS MESSAGES.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 4.—Former Senator David B. Hill made his first speech in the Democratic campaign here tonight before the Albany Constitution Club in the Humane Society Hall. The speech was devoted to an attack upon the course pursued by President Roosevelt in connection with the Panama canal treaty and the revolution which resulted in the secession of Panama from the republic of Colombia.

Senator Hill said in part:

Mr. Hill, briefly discussing other issues, said that the subject he particularly proposed to discuss was "the lawlessness of President Roosevelt displayed in the Panama affair." He declared that the Republican platform adopted at Chicago did not commend the "big stick" diplomacy of President Roosevelt. It merely said that the possession of a route is now an accomplished fact, and that work on a canal "is at last begun, and it is due to the Republican party."

The President's Lawlessness.

The essence of the reproach of President Roosevelt made in the Democratic national platform, the speaker continued, is that he has as President been "lawless" in the sense of American law and of international law. The Democratic platform intended to assert that President Roosevelt did, on the Panama affair, violate plain treaty obligations, plain international usages and the Constitution of the United States.

When Roosevelt became President the relations of Colombia and the United States to Panama had been fixed by the treaty of 1846.

President Roosevelt, in his special message to Congress of January 4, 1904, strove for the inference that the treaty was made on the initiation of President Polk, and that its purpose was "above all to secure the construction of an inter-oceanic canal." He told Congress "it was the opinion of eminent international jurists" that Colombia could not under the engagements of 1846 refuse to enter "into a proper arrangement with the United States" for building a canal, but he failed to mention the names of the jurists and to send Congress their opinions and to explain that Colombia was entitled to have an opinion regarding the propriety of any arrangement. It was on the day after the date of the President's message that Secretary Hay wrote that "it is true that the treaty (1846) did not require Colombia to permit such a passage to be constructed." Why did New Granada propose to us such a treaty?

Secretary Hay's Answer.

Secretary Hay answers that it was because New Granada feared "certain European Governments, and particularly that of Great Britain," would by some means get possesion of the transit route. Her object was to obtain a pledge by the United States that it would maintain for Colombia her sovereignty and property, and the neutrality of the Isthmus of Panama. To secure that object she promised to the United States a free and open transit.

The treaty was negotiated, signed and ratified on the theory that New Granada had a right in law to close, if she saw fit, against the United States and all nations, a transit across the Isthmus, or to open it on her own terms.

The former Senator recounted the events leading up to the revolt which gained Panama her independence. At that time, he said, the alternative before President Roosevelt was whether to treat Panama as an integral part of Colombia, or aid her as a province rightfully in revolt, or soon to be in revolt. He chose the latter. He repudiated the treaty of 1846. He confessed to Congress that, without consulting it, he did, on November 2, 1903, when "it was evident that the outbreak was imminent," send orders to our naval forces not to permit any Colombian armed force to come with hostile intent "at any point within fifty miles of Panama," and to prevent the landing of any armed forces by Colombia, in defiance of her sovereignty, which the treaty of 1846 bound the President to respect. Those orders were executed. The revolt of November 4, 1903, was of course successful. President Roosevelt upheld it, and so created Panama as an independent State; two days thereafter he recognized as independent the State he had created by an act of war, and fourteen days later made a treaty with the new State for the excavation of a ship canal, which treaty the newly-created State ratified on December 2, 1903.

A pleading by the President in behalf of such extraordinary conduct he set forth in his special message to Congress of January 4, 1904. Therein and in another special message to Congress fourteen days later, which contains a correspondence between Gen. Reyes, a special commissioner of Colombia then in Washington, and Secretary Hay, whose utterances are to be assumed as expressing the President's views, any one can discern whether or not the accusation of lawlessness made in the Democratic platform is well founded. The issue can by the Democracy be safely rested on these two documents.

Mr. Hill took up the messages of the President referred to and analyzed them in detail.

His Special Message.

His special message to Congress in the Panama affair, and urging the ratification of the Hay-Varilla treaty, discloses how incapable he is of correctly interpreting treaties and statutes. He alludes to the treaty of 1846 as the dedication by New Granada to all the world of the Isthmus of Panama for a ship canal, whereas it was in fact the dedication of free transit only to the United States and made, as Secretary Hay said, to keep out European Governments. He interprets the Spooner law as commanding the President to do that which Congress cannot lawfully do, namely to compel him to negotiate a special form of treaty.

President Roosevelt on January 4, 1904, dumped on Congress newspaper clippings to show that every one knew insurrection was in sight at Panama after Colombia rejected the Hay-Herran treaty. He confessed that he knew even the day and hour from two army officers who had by a queer coincidence come to him from inspection in Panama. It will be proof of a strange absence in the President of detective instinct if it shall turn out that he did not ascertain from those officers, or from other sources, who was financing the coming revolt and what Varilla was doing in the interest of revolt, news of which induced him to order the navy to keep the Colombian forces "fifty miles" away from Panama, and such great distance solely that he could forsooth police the transit and keep it open.

What Need of "Big Stick?"

Why need President Roosevelt have wielded the "big stick" in behalf of the French company, then chaffering, lobbying and huckstering at Bogota as it had been for a quarter of a century? What influence, bad for the United States, would have been exerted by paying a few millions more or less, in comparison with international law violated by the President of the United States, a public obligation like that in the treaty of 1846 repudiated by him, the Federal Constitution set at defiance by him, a plain statute disobeyed by him and executive precedents begun by him most inconvenient and damaging in our future diplomacy?

HOPKINS AND BLAKEY SPEAK AT BEATTYVILLE.

Republican Nominee Clearly Demonstrated He Is No Match For Congressman Hopkins.

Beattyville, Ky., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—This was a great day for Democracy in Lee. Congressman F. A. Hopkins and Theodore Blakey, the Republican nominee for Congress, met here to-day in joint debate and spoke to a large crowd. Blakey led off in an hour's speech which was read almost entirely from the Republican campaign book, and, outside of this, he showed rather little familiarity with the issues. His speech had a depressing effect on the audience.

Hopkins followed in a speech of an hour and a half, and completely scouted his opponent. His arraignment of the Republican party on its record in favor of the trusts and extravagance was admirable, and almost brought the crowd off its feet in applause. He sustained his reputation as one of the best orators in Kentucky. At the close people gathered about him and gave him a great ovation.

BATH COUNTY REPUBLICANS

To Select Delegates To Congressional Convention At Masville.

Owingsville, Ky., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Chairman Henry T. Hopkins has called a mass-meeting of Bath county Republicans at the courthouse here to-morrow to select delegates to attend the congressional convention at Maysville Thursday to nominate a candidate to take the place of Hon. Sam J. Pugh. The Republicans here seem to have lost all hope since Pugh's withdrawal. J. B. Bennett, of Greenup, says positively he will not be a candidate. A prominent Republican stated that the convention, he believed, would nominate Dr. J. P. Huff, of Fleming county.

Spoke At Russellville.

Russellville, Ky., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Col. J. A. Davidson, of Chicago, made a talk here to-day in the interest of the Republican party.

EPISCOPALIANS.

THEIR CONCLAVE MEETS TO-DAY IN BOSTON.

GRAVE QUESTIONS TO COME UP

Changing Name of Church and Divorce Problem Among Them—Archbishop Canterbury To Attend.

Boston, Oct. 4.—What is considered by the leading bishops and lay deputies as the most important conclave of Episcopalians ever held in this country will be formally opened in this city to-morrow, when the triennial general convention will be assembled in Emmanuel church.

Before the opening session a service will be held in Trinity church at which the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury and prelates from four continents will be present. It is expected that nearly 100 bishops will be in the solemn procession which precedes the services. The pracher will be the Rt. Rev. William Croswell Doane, D. D., LL. D., bishop of Albany, N. Y.

The Archbishop of Canterbury, the first occupant of the chair of St. Augustine to attend a convention of the Episcopal Church in this country, arrived from New York on a special train which reached the city from New York this afternoon. Dr. Davidson was accompanied by J. Pierpont Morgan, who is a deputy from New York.

To-night Armory Lawrence, of this city, tendered a banquet to the English primate and the Tuilleries.

A number of matters of the first importance are to be acted upon, including the question of changing the name of the church, that of altering the divorce canon to prevent the remarriage of any person whose partner is still living, a proposition to group the diocese into provinces with a primate at the head of each proposed district, the question of adopting the English system of electing bishops suffragan to assist in large dioceses and in dioceses where the negro problem is uppermost and the general plan of meeting conditions in the insular possessions.

Several new bishops are to be chosen by the convention.

VARILLA DENIES THE STATEMENT OF MORALES.

Paris, Oct. 4.—M. Bunau-Varilla, former Minister of Panama to the United States, was asked to-day concerning the statement made by Dr. Morales, former Minister of State of Panama, in New York Sunday, charging M. Bunau-Varilla with having negotiated the Panama canal treaty contrary to the instructions of the Panama Government, said:

"I declare positively that his assertions are imaginary insofar as they regard me, personally."

Placed In Receiver's Hands.

Spartanburg, S. C., Oct. 4.—The Valley Falls Manufacturing Company, operating 3,400 spindles and 100 looms, with a pay-roll of $2,000 per month, has been placed in the hands of a receiver, G. K. Wilson, cashier of the Spartanburg Central National Bank, was appointed receiver. The application was made by the company, which is capitalized at $75,000.

LORETTO DAY

Appropriately Observed At the World's Fair.

SPLENDID PROGRAMME GIVEN.

HUNDREDS OF GRADUATES AND UNDER-GRADUATES TAKE PART.

BRIGADE OFFICERS GET AWAY.

St. Louis, Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Loretto day at the Kentucky building was all that it promised to be and more. Over 500 graduates and undergraduates of the mother house back in Kentucky and the many branches over the country attended and participated in the exercises.

The musical numbers of the programme were given on the first floor and the addresses on the second floor. The latter was also used for the reception this afternoon. The tables in the ladies' parlors on the second floor were banked high with flowers, while the academy colors—yellow and white—were to be seen everywhere. Fully one-half of the ladies present were attired in white, and the scene presented was one not soon to be forgotten.

The programme began with an address, "Loretto's Greeting To Her Children," by Mrs. T. LaMotte Cappinger, president of Florissant St. Louis Alumnae. This was followed by the entire alumnae singing "My Old Kentucky Home," amid much applause. The violin solo of Miss Bauer, of Florissant, Mo., was especially well received, as were the piano solo by Miss Jane Hazel, of Loretto, Ky.; a song by Miss Denver, of St. Louis, and an Arabesque solo by Miss Jane Rapier, of Loretto.

The singing of Mrs. M. Green, of Kansas City, was displayed to a good advantage in "The Flower" song. An address by the Most Rev. J. J. Glennon, archbishop of this diocese, was one of the features of the programme, which closed most appropriately with an address by Dr. Rose C. Donovan, secretary of the association. This was an eight-verse original poem. At its conclusion she distributed a handsomely printed copy to all the guests as a souvenir.

At the reception, salads, ices, cakes and coffee were served.

Kentucky Notes.

—The last of the brigade officers of the Kentucky State Guard got away from camp to-day. They were Quartermaster General Harry G. Tandy, Lieut. Lamar Ray and Capt. Lillis.

—Mr. R. R. Perry, editor of the Sun-Sentinel at Winchester, is conducting a party of fifty-eight on an exposition sight-seeing tour. All of them are from Clark county and are domiciled in one large residence on Delmar avenue, which Editor Perry rented for the party. Mr. Perry is very proud of his crowd, and says that a majority of them would never have come to the fair except on a journey conducted as this has been. Sunday Mr. Perry took the entire party up the river on the steamer Spread Eagle and gave them a dinner on the boat.

COUNT LEOPOLD IS NOT RECOGNIZED AS REGENT.

Berlin, Oct. 4.—The Lippe Government has published a telegram from Emperor William to Count Leopold, son of the late regent, Count Ernst of Lippe-Biesterfeld, condoling with him on the death of his father, and notifying him that, as the legal situation is uncertain, he (the Emperor) is unable to recognize Count Leopold as regent, and that hence the military will not be permitted to take the oath of allegiance to Count Leopold.

The Government of Lippe suggests that the dispute as to the right of succession shall be submitted to the Imperial Supreme Court, or some other nonpartisan court, instead of to the Federal Council.

Louisville Day the Banner Day.

It will be seen that the 27th was the banner day. This was Louisville day. Of course, as fewer than one in every ten who come to the building can get to the registers because of the crowd around them, it is not an exaggeration to say that 12,000 visitors attended the Louisville day exercises.

It is believed that October will show a much larger registration. It is conceded that the attendance will be the greatest during this month.

Kentucky Notes.

—Mr. F. C. Nunemacher is to present President Francis with a characteristic letter, the "greenback" book, entitled "History of Louisville," which he prepared especially for Louisville day, and from which he read at intervals during his speech.

—H. J. Elwes, F. R. S., of Colesborne, Cheltenham, author of "The Trees of Great Britain and Ireland," who is now visiting the Exposition, is very much interested in Kentucky's forestry exhibit and has asked Superintendent in Charge Wm. Boa for fourteen pieces of wood in the display for a British forestry institution of learning. He wants two pieces of curly poplar and one each of white hickory, quartered sycamore, black walnut, butternut, sassafras, cucumber, box elder, quartered red oak, hemlock, chestnut, yellow ash and red birch.

—Dr. W. S. Ward, field director of the Mines and Metallurgy Department and one of the members of the International Jury of Awards on the ceramic group, says Kentucky has the finest installation of clay exhibits in the Mines building.

—Daniel M. Bowmar, editor of the Woodford Sun, writes that he is to bring over a second large party of Kentuckians for the week of October 10.

—President A. Y. Ford, of the Kentucky Commission, has tendered to the Kentucky Daughters of the Confederacy the use of the Kentucky building on October 8 for a reception to be given to the general organization. The invitation is to read in the name of the Daughters of the Confederacy of Kentucky and the Kentucky Commission.

—J. G. Yeager, of Shelbyville, has lost by death since his arrival here with his hogs for the World's Swine Show, beginning next Wednesday, his famous three-year-old sow, "Melody 25th." Mr. Yeager valued this sow at $1,000, and brought her over with the full expectation of capturing the grand championship. He bought her last year from Reuben Gentry, of the Biltmore farm, near Asheville, S. C., who had just brought her over with a swine importation from England.

—Judge Garrett S. Wall, of Maysville, will be the commissioner at the Kentucky building for the next two weeks. He relieved Commissioner W. H. Newman, of Louisville. Judge Wall is here at a specially busy fortnight in the Kentucky building. Five of the six days of this week are filled up. To-morrow is Loretto day; Wednesday and Thursday, Kentucky bankers' days; Friday night, clay workers' reception; Saturday night, Daughters of Confederacy reception. Two events are already scheduled for next week—Wednesday, October 12, D. A. R. reception; Wednesday night, wedding of Owensboro couple.

—Miss Nora Guetig, of Louisville, has succeeded Miss Ida Moss, of Pineville, as superintendent in charge of Kentucky's educational exhibit.

—Several members of the Kentucky building official family have been invited to the Veiled Prophets' ball on to-morrow night. The invitations are the most elaborate of the Exposition period. They came by express, being in a box a foot square and two inches high. There are two outer boxes before the box containing the "command" is reached. It contains dance cards and a large white metal card tray of beautiful design.

—Kentucky's mineral exhibit continues to attract attention. Among to-day's callers was J. D. Arida, of Queensland, Australia, correspondent for a paper at his home city, who took copious notes on the different displays. Prof. A. R. Crandall, formerly of the Kentucky Geological Survey, stopped to look over the exhibit while en route to Kentucky to do some additional work on the geological survey. He was highly pleased with the display. Mr. Will Ward Duffield, connected with the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey at Washington, was another visitor at the exhibit, who studied it closely.

CHICAGO BOYS MOB A SCHOOL BUILDING.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—With stones and other missiles a mob of boys to-day bombarded the Hamline School, near the stock yards. A patrol wagon load of policemen dispersed the juvenile rioters, making several arrests.

The work was the culmination of a strike which was started by the pupils owing to a report that colored teachers had been assigned to the school. The report aroused race feeling, growing out of the presence of colored strikebreakers in recent labor troubles.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—The Women's Christian Temperance Union closed its twenty-fourth annual convention to-night with the best session in its history. The business session heard all State reports to-day and they were much better than anticipated. The county superintendents especially showed rapid advancement and progress. An address by Mrs. Edholm, of California, was the feature of the closing exercises. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—Mrs. Frances Beauchamp, of Lexington.

Vice President—Mrs. Mary W. Bender, of Louisville.

Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. Mary Balch, of Louisville.

Recording Secretary—Mrs. Nellie T. Arnspeiger, of Lexington.

Treasurer—Mrs. Elizabeth Myall, of Paris.

Y. Secretary—Miss Annie Edwards, of Perryville.

L. T. L. Secretary—Mrs. Nellie T. Arnspeiger, of Lexington.

Mrs. Bender, from the State-at-large, and Mrs. Jennie Thompson, of Mt. Sterling, and Mrs. Lida C. Isgrig, of Louisville, were elected delegates to the National Convention of the W. C. T. U., which will be held in Philadelphia in November.

A resolution indorsing the stand of President Roosevelt on the race suicide was voted down.

Mrs. Culla J. Verheinger, of Indiana, closed the meeting to-night with an able address on "A Misspent Trust."

REMAINS OF SENATOR HOAR LAID TO REST.

Taken To Concord, Mass., the Place of His Birth—Brief Burial Services.

Concord, Mass., Oct. 4.—The last services over the body of United States Senator George Frisbie Hoar were held to-day in this town, the place of his birth, and several hundred of the Senator's former townsmen followed the body to the place of its burial in Sleepy Hollow cemetery. In the First Parish church a solemn service of Scripture reading, song and prayer was conducted by the pastor, Rev. Loren B. McDonald. The pastor spoke no words of eulogy, reading instead James Russell Lowell's poem on Channing. Two of Senator Hoar's favorite hymns, "Lead, Kindly Light" and "Abide With Me," were sung by a quartet. At the grave brief services of burial were held and the body was committed to the grave.

LOREE

Resigns Presidency of the Rock Island System.

END OF WEEK OF BICKERING.

HIS METHODS NOT ACCEPTABLE TO ROAD'S OWNERS.

B. F. WINCHELL SUCCEEDS HIM

Chicago, Oct. 4.—[Special.]—A tremendous sensation was sprung in railroad circles late this afternoon when L. F. Loree, head of the entire Rock Island system, and the highest salaried railroad president in the world, resigned his position. This is the sensational culmination of a week of bickering, in which Loree and his methods were pitted against B. F. Winchell, the mechanical head of the system, and Mr. Winchell has won. Mr. Loree nine months ago came to the Rock Island system from the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, of which he was president. In order to induce him to make the change he was given a cash bonus of a half million dollars and a salary of $75,000 a year, the contract running five years.

It is said the Moores, who own the Rock Island, have been much displeased with the failure of their plans to make of the system the greatest tonnage power in history. Following the last annual report of the Rock Island, which showed a decrease in net earnings, the Moore brothers hastened to this city to ascertain the reasons. It is said they concluded that Loree had made a grievous mistake in applying Eastern methods to Western conditions with results that were highly unsatisfactory. The Moores refused to censure Mr. Loree, but intimated that those methods were not satisfactory.

Loree's Successor.

B. F. Winchell, who has won this important fight, will succeed Mr. Loree and be in supreme command of the system, second only in power to the owners of the road. His methods and ideas have been diametrically opposed to those of Mr. Loree from the start, and it is natural to suppose that there will be a complete reorganization under his management. It is altogether likely that many of the men brought here from the Pennsylvania system will be supplanted. This will be the third reorganization of the system since the Moores assumed control.

Mr. Loree and the Moores are in this city, but decline to discuss the matter in any form. It is understood Mr. Loree has not been in robust health for some time. His rise from a subordinate position at Fulton, Ill., to the highest point in the railroad world has been the subject of wide comment. Under his contract with the Moores, in the event of his death before its expiration, the salary of $75,000 a year was to be continued to his widow.

Where the Mistake Was Made.

Railroad men who will talk of the affair say the grave mistake was made of attempting to apply Eastern methods, where traffic was dense, to the Western country. The error of subordinating traffic to the expense of operation is charged against this head of the system. Mr. Loree resigns the following titles:

President of the Rock Island Company of New Jersey, the holding company of the system securities; director of the same company, chairman of the Executive Board of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway Company, and director of the same company, and chairman of the St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad Company.

B. F. Yoakum, former president of the Frisco, succeeds him in the latter position.

TEMPORARY INJUNCTION

Against Merger of Seaboard Air Line and Seaboard-Roanoke.

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 4.—Upon the petition of Charles Chauncey, of Montgomery county, Pa., Federal Judge Waddill to-day granted a temporary injunction forbidding the merging of the Seaboard Air Line and the Seaboard and Roanoke railroad. Mr. Chauncey holds $11,000 in 6 per cent. certificates of indebtedness issued by the Seaboard and Roanoke in 1886, to the amount of $690,000, and says the amount of $285,000 of this issuance is still outstanding. The injunction was served upon President J. M. Barr and General Counsel Elijah R. Watts, of the Seaboard Air Line to-day. A meeting of the stockholders of the Seaboard and Roanoke had been called for 11 o'clock, and it is declared the merger would have been voted for at that meeting. The injunction reached President Barr at 10:57 o'clock. President Barr said to-night the proceedings were of no consequence.

The case is set for a formal hearing in open court here November 7.

STUDENTS AT BUTLER UNIVERSITY IN RIOT.

Freshmen and Sophomores Have a Lively Scrap, Many Being Bruised and Scratched.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—There was a riotous demonstration following the chapel exercises at Butler University this morning, and several of the students were badly bruised, among them some co-eds.

The freshmen entered for chapel service wearing their newly adopted class colors. Attempts to snatch the colors were made by sophomores during the service, but fairly good order was maintained until its close. Then the sophomores rushed upon the freshmen, and the battle began and was continued out into the hall and down the long stairway. From the room, where the fight started, down the long stairs the corridors were packed with the struggling students, while members of the faculty were demanding order in vain.

Several of the co-eds were interested spectators when the fight opened, but they could not restrain the impulse to join in the scrap, and in a few moments they were in the midst of the struggling mass, pulling and hauling with the best of them. Many of the combatants were bruised and scratched, but the freshmen retained their colors.

President Garrison's order to disperse to their classes was reluctantly obeyed.

Temporary Exequatur Issued.

Washington, Oct. 4.—After careful consideration of the international points involved the State Department has decided to issue a temporary exequatur to Geronimo Ossa, as Consul of Chili in the canal zone. The exequatur will be directed to the Governor of the canal zone, authorizing the Consulate to exercise his functions therein.

When Emerson wrote that "there are three Wants which can never be satisfied—that of the rich, who want something more; that of the sick, who want something different, and that of the traveler, who says, 'Anywhere, but here,'" he outlined the limitations of the want ads, pretty fully.

Crowd Falls Off.

The attendance last night fell far below that of the opening night, and was probably smaller than any night last year. Society was again out in force, and new gowns were as much in evidence in the boxes and on the promenade as on the opening night, but the seats behind the boxes were not well filled. The falling off is not attributed to a lack of interest, but rather to the many other attractions at the theaters, which drew many, and the attendance to-night will be far larger, the members of the association believe. The performance moved with snap last night, and it was just 11 o'clock when Mr. Hudson awarded the ribbons in the hunting class, the last of the evening.

Repeated Victory of Half Century.

In the members' saddle class Gen. Castleman repeated a victory won forty-seven years ago over Charles L. Railey. It was the first time Mr. Castleman had ever showed a horse in a ring and Mr. Railey had not yet earned the reputation of being one of the foremost breeders of saddle horses in the world. The struggle between the young men was sharp, and Gen. Castleman's victory pleased him more than any of the many others that have come to him since. Since that day, Gen. Castleman and Mr. Railey had never competed in the same class together, and each was anxious to show his horse at its best.

Eugenia Takes the Money.

Each was again astride of a mare of his own breeding. Gen. Castleman's Eugenia is a daughter of Emily, his peerless mare that was crowned champion at the World's Fair at Chicago, and Highland Denmark. She is a queenly bay and has the perfect manners and paces of her dam. Mr. Railey's entry was Mayo, a clean-cut chestnut, and handled in Mr. Railey's best manner. They were not the only entries who were entitled to consideration, either, for Mrs. Grosvenor rode her Petroleum, a stylish black; Howard Ball bestrode The Gambler, a well-set bay, and other high-class animals were shown. The greatest interest of the evening was manifested in the result, and when Mr. Clausen pinned the blue to Eugenia's bridle the cheers were loud and long. Mr. Railey was compelled to give second place to Howard Bell's The Gambler, and took the third ribbon with Mayo.

Brought Out Some Crackerjacks.

The first class of the evening for three-gaited saddlers, four years old, brought together a field of seven, including several crackerjacks. Charles L. Railey, who last year won the championship with Elsa, rode a splendid chestnut mare, Mayo, who put up a fine performance. She met her match, however, in Full View, a brown mare, owned by J. C. Cook, of Shelbyville. Full View's manners were the best of the field. She has a good mouth and her trot is smooth, easy and has just enough action to look well. Second place was awarded to Mrs. Grosvenor's Dixie, which was second in the championship class Monday night, and Mr. Railey's mare was placed third.

But four of the ten entries for the $500 appointment class for single harness horses answered the bugle. Louis Newgass drove Lonzia to a park phaeton. Jack Donnelly showed Little Boy Blue, from the Grosvenor stable, to a lady's duke, the showiest vehicle in the ring. James Murray drove Empress, a good-looking bay with a miserable dock, to a Stanhope, and Lawrence Jones' good horse, Gallant Boy, was shown by Mode Nicoll to a Stanhope. All had grooms in livery, the men riding on the rumbles of the Tichenor and Grosvenor rigs. The judges found some difficulty in deciding between the Tichenor and Grosvenor outfits. Lonzia has sensational knee action, but is not so smooth as Little Boy Blue. The blue tie was finally given to Lonzia, the red to Little Boy Blue and the yellow to Gallant Lad.

Members Ride.

The first members' class of the show was for three-gaited saddlers, and a fine field was shown. Gen. Castleman rode his mare Eugenia, a bay mare, and a daughter of his famous Emily, which won first prize at the World's Columbian Exposition at Chicago; Mrs. J. B. M. Grosvenor, the only woman who had an entry, rode her coal black Petroleum; C. L. Railey again showed Mayo, Frank G. Hogan rode a flashy bay, Emma Briggs; James Murray was on a strapping big chestnut Montrose; Howard Ball rode The Gambler; T. E. Houchens was on Lucy Duncan and Mat Cohen rode Mandina.

Gen. Castleman showed his mare to perfection. Her manners were excellent and she displayed a fine walk and trot and her canter was easy and not too high. The award of the blue tie was a most popular decision. Howard Ball drew second place, the best he has done so far, Mr. Railey was again third and Mrs. Grosvenor and Mat Cohen were fourth and fifth.

Birdie Cecil Wins.

The Bernheim cup for roadsters The Bernheim cup for roadsters bury pair and Glenbrook, who competed for the championship, again showing, while Allen Edelen, of Bergin, Ky., drove a fine bay mare, Birdie Cecil, by Gambetta Wilkes. G. Robinson Hunt exhibited Bird Blue, a bronze bay, by Eagle Bird, Mr. Edelen's mare was awarded the blue rosette, while Glenbrook and Advance Guard were again first and second, respectively.

M. M. Wall, with a second roan grey, won in the five-gaited class again. The Bride Rose, a daughter of King Lee Rose, who also sired Jack, showed the same perfect gaits and beat a good one in Ann Randolph, a bay mare owned by Mrs. J. B. Bowles, of Bardstown. Mat Cohen's Eudora was placed third.

Fine Field of Pairs.

The appointment class for pairs brought out but a small field, one team each from the Tichenor, Grosvenor and Crow & Murray stables being all that showed. Jack Donelly drove Mrs. Grosvenor's chestnuts, Carnation and Rose Leaf; Mr. Newgass held the reins over Longia and The Don, and Empress and Show Girl were handled cleverly by Mr. Murray. In appointments there was little to choose.

Mr. Murray drove a spider phaeton and the others mail phaetons, all carrying grooms in the rumbles. Mr. Murray's pair showed to better advantage than on Monday night, especially Show Girl, whose action was unusually high. The Tichenor pair are more sensational actors than Mrs. Grosvenor's, but the chestnuts are smooth and even in their work.

In making the awards the judges again preferred the Tichenor pair and tied the red to the Grosvenor entry.

Mrs. Grosvenor's Four Win.

With the Tichenor road four barred by reason of its victory on Monday night, but four entries were left in the road four class, appointments not considered. Jack Donelly, who did not show Mrs. Grosvenor's roans Monday night, drove them to her coach, a well-matched four, all roans, with plenty of power and substance. They went along with a swinging trot and drove together well. Mr. Murray showed his chestnuts to his brake. They were given the gate Monday because Mr. Murray has no coach with him, and their entrance last night was greeted with cheers. Mr. Culbertson drove the same four to a deep-seated brake instead of his coach, and George Pepper & Co. sent in an entry. The competition was clearly between the Murray and Grosvenor entries, as the Culbertson and Pepper fours lacked the substance of their rivals, and the leaders were rather parky for road service. The first prize was given to Mrs. Grosvenor's four, and Mr. Murray drew second place. Mr. Culbertson was given third over Mr. Pepper's team, the Pepper leaders being entirely too flashy for a road four.

Blue Girl In Hunting Class.

As neither Henry Herbert nor Victor Charles Mather, the judges selected for the hunting and jumping classes, was present, Lytle H. Hudson was asked to judge the class. The class was for light and middleweight hunters up to carrying 170 pounds to hounds. The rule requiring that full weight be carried was overlooked by some of the entries, but no objection was filed, and the fact was not considered by the judge. William Culbertson rode Marengo, a big gray he purchased from Crow & Murray last fall. Mr. Culbertson's horse put up a clever performance and tipped the bar but once. He has not the qualifications of the other horses in regard to conformation, which counted 50 per cent., and did not get any part of the money. First place went to Blue Girl, owned by George Pepper & Co., and San Toy, also riden by Pete Roach, who rides for Mr. Pepper, was second. Coquette, owned by Crow & Murray and ridden by Hughey Wilson, was placed third.

EXTENDED LEAVE

GRANTED PROF. ROARK, OF THE STATE COLLEGE.

Executive Committee Sustains Action of President Patterson In the Murrell Case.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees of Kentucky State College to-night Prof. R. N. Roark was given leave of absence from October 10 to January 1 in order that he might go East and examine the libraries of Cornell University, University of Pennsylvania and Columbia University for the purpose of verifying certain statements that are to be published in the third of a series of books on economy of education. This series of books by Prof. Roark is devoted to the normal teachers' reading circle, and it is thought much good will be derived from the works.

The committee also took up the case of A. D. Murrell, an appointee student from Taylor county, who complained that he had been ordered from the school by President Patterson without cause. The committee spent three hours investigating the alleged grievances of young Murrell, and finally voted to sustain the action of President Patterson, and as a result Murrell was pronounced by the committee as being guilty of insubordination, and the president was given leave to punish him at his discretion.

The committee further decided to allow the athletic association 40 per cent. of all fees collected from nonappointee students to be devoted to the football team, and also 40 per cent. of the fees paid voluntarily by the appointee students, many of whom refuse to take advantage of the ruling of Judge Parker and ask for a return of the $5 laboratory fee paid by them at the opening of school.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE.

LEGALITY OF PRACTICE IN NEW HAMPSHIRE UPHELD.

Woman Who Sued Because She Was Not Healed of Disease Fails To Get Judgment.

Concord, N. H., Oct. 4.—The legality of the practice of Christian Science in New Hampshire was upheld by the Supreme Court of the State to-day in a decision handed down in the suit of Mrs. Jennie Spead, of this city, to recover damages for alleged injuries as the result of treatment by Irving W. Tomlinson, a Christian Science practitioner, also of Concord.

Mrs. Spead claimed that Tomlinson had failed to cure her of the illness for which he treated her and that her cure was greatly delayed by the time spent in taking his treatment. The case was decided in favor of the defendant in the lower court, but the plaintiff appealed. The Supreme Court now affirms the decision and dismisses the bill.

In substance the court holds that the practice of Christian Science is legal and that patients who have resorted to such treatment cannot recover any damages in case the practitioner uses the accepted Christian Science methods of treatment.

The plaintiff claimed damages on three grounds—negligence, deceit and breach of warranty.

THE BATTLESHIP OHIO PLACED IN COMMISSION.

Ceremony of Raising the Flag Over the Vessel Takes Place At San Francisco.

San Francisco, Oct. 4.—The ceremony of raising the flag over the new battleship Ohio, placing the vessel in commission, was enacted on the deck of the big ship to-day.

The crew of 300 men from the Mare Island navy yard presented a fine appearance in brand new uniforms when they were lined up to hear Capt. Logan read the order designating him as their commander. The battle flag given to the ship by the Ohio Society was then raised. The Marine Band played and officers and crew stood at salute until the bunting, drawn slowly up, had reached the masthead.

TUNNELS

Through Oak Street Seem Now Assured.

CHIEF ENGINEER IS DIRECTED

TO CONFER WITH RAILROAD REPRESENTATIVES.

COUNCIL SEEMS TO CONCUR.

Parkland is at last about to get the tunnels under the railroad tracks on Oak street. The lower board of the General Council last night adopted a resolution directing the chief engineer of the city and the Board of Public Works to take up with the engineers of the L. and N. and Pennsylvania railroads the question of constructing tunnels under their tracks at Oak street and draw plans for the work. A report is to be made to the General Council not later than the first meeting held in November. This practically means that the tunnels will be built, for the upper board has adopted the resolution. The result is due largely to the efforts of Dr. R. B. Gilbert, who has been pegging steadily away on the question until he finally got it through.

The sale of the Industrial School of Reform property is authorized by an ordinance which was introduced in the lower board. The consent of the General Council is necessary before the sale can be made. Several ordinances were introduced, but the time was taken up mainly with payrolls and claims and approval of contracts for street work. Both boards adjourned to meet October 18.

THE UPPER BOARD

Hears Discussion On Powers of Contract Committee.

The upper board was called to order by Paul C. Barth, the president, nine members being present. After the passage of the payrolls for September and the approval of a number of contracts, Owen Tyler asked to be informed as to the powers of the contract committee. He said he had reported unfavorably a number of contracts for sidewalks at a meeting two weeks ago, and later he had found that the work was all done, in many instances, before the contract was sent to the General Council. He wanted to know if the committee had any power or was simply a figurehead. Henry L. Stone, the City Attorney, was present and was asked for his opinion. He said that when the contract is for original construction, the property owners paying for the work, the General Council has no power to reject contracts which have been approved by the Board of Public Works, the Court of Appeals having decided that the approval of that board is final. Mr. Tyler said he simply wanted to know what his powers were. Joseph Nevin said he saw no use in the contracts being sent to the General Council if they had no powers. Mr. Stone said it was not necessary, but John H. Phelps, of the board, said it was done at the request of the Mayor. The contracts which had been in Mr. Tyler's hands were approved.

During the reading of contracts for fire hydrants Mr. Nevin expressed himself as favoring cisterns instead of hydrants. Mr. Phelps said Fillmore Tyson, the chief of the fire department, preferred the hydrants and thought that better service can be attained by their use. The board then adjourned.

MANY NEW ORDINANCES

Introduced In Lower Board, But All Are Referred.

The lower board was called to order by S. S. Blitz, the chairman, eighteen members being present. The dedication of land by Mrs. Mary Herp for the construction of a new street, to be known as Edgeland avenue, was accepted. The street is between Baxter and Castlewood avenues. The contract for a lighting plant at the Home for the Aged and Infirm, amounting to $4,461, was approved. Some discussion was caused by an ordinance authorizing the improvement with brick of Twenty-eighth street, between Broadway and Garland avenue. T. N. Shepard and Augustus Miller wanted the ordinance held up, saying that the property owners did not want the street improved, and they thought time should be given for a proper consideration of the question. Dr. J. W. Drake said the ordinance had been pending for some time, and he thought ample time had been given everybody. The ordinance was passed.

Councilman Cook reported an ordinance authorizing the K. and I. Bridge Company to construct a double track on Thirtieth street, from Market to Chestnut street, and it was passed, with an amendment requiring the company to put up gates at intersecting streets and have a watchman on duty.

Mr. Shepard, who was chairman of a committee appointed to investigate the disappearance of seven contracts for fire hydrants, reported that the contracts had not been found, but that duplicates had been presented. He said no motive could have existed for the removal of the contracts, so the committee was discharged. Councilman Beville offered an ordinance requiring all railroad crossings, on made streets, to be of standard grade. The ordinance authorizing the sale of the Industrial School of Reform property contained the following provision: That the new school property shall be in Jefferson county; that it shall be on a railroad or electric line, or both; that it shall contain 250 to 500 acres, a part of which shall be in woods for a park.

Mr. Miller offered an ordinance, which was referred, requiring the removal of all telephone and telegraph poles which are not actually in use. The board then adjourned.

TENTH ANNUAL MEETING OF SOUTHERN RAILWAY.

The tenth annual meeting of the Southern Railway Company, in Kentucky, was held yesterday in the office of Alex. P. Humphrey, counsel for the road. All the stock, $1,000,000 in amount, was represented and the regular report of the officers was presented to the stockholders. The Board of Directors was re-elected, consisting of A. B. Andrews, W. W. Finley, R. D. Lankford, Samuel Spencer, Francis Lynde Stetson and W. S. Townsend. The board will meet in the immediate future, but the date has not been fixed.

DISCUSSING NEEDS OF MUNICIPALITIES.

East St. Louis, Ill., Oct. 4.—The eighth annual convention of the League of American Municipalities convened here to-day for the discussion of general improvement and facilitation of every branch of municipal administration. Representatives from municipalities throughout the United States and Canada were present.

The final session of the convention on Thursday will be held at the World's Fair. The address of welcome was made by Mayor Silas Cook, after which President James M. Head, of Nashville, Tenn., delivered his annual address.

BOWLING GREEN MAN CHARGED WITH THEFT.

Carl A. Riggs In Jail In St. Louis Accused of Stealing $45 From William Lawther.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Carl A. Riggs, son of a wealthy Bowling Green, Ky., merchant, is in jail charged with the theft of $45 from William Lawther, of Fulton, Mo. A warrant was issued. Lawther met young Riggs on the street early this morning, and, being in a jovial frame of mind, invited the youth to have a drink. Riggs accepted, but had been in the saloon only a few minutes, when Lawther raised the cry of "thief," complaining that he had lost his money. Riggs, when arrested, had $25 and protested his innocence. Riggs wept while being led to a cell, saying the disgrace would kill his mother. His parents have been notified.

GROSS VIOLATION

OF ELECTION LAWS BY REPUBLICAN OFFICERS.

A SENSATION AT NEWPORT.

Electioneering Scheme For Republican Registration.

Newport, Ky., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—A big sensation was created in political circles of Newport to-day, when it was learned that various precinct officers of election, acting at the behest of Republican politicians, had been guilty of violation of the election law that would probably result in the entire registration, in precincts where the law was violated, being declared invalid.

Partisans of the Republican candidate for Circuit Judge had caused to be printed envelopes bearing a picture of the above candidate and admonishing voters to support him.

The certificates of registration were placed in these and handed to the voter notwithstanding the fact that the County Election Commission had supplied plain white envelopes for that purpose.

So obvious was this violation of Section 1,569 of the general election law, which says that "no officer of election shall do any electioneering on election day," and provides for a fine of from $20 to $500 and imprisonment from ten days to six months as a punishment for each offense; that the County Election Commission was notified, and Commissioner Schwartz caused the following additional warning:

"To Whom It May Concern—No envelopes containing an advertisement thereon for any candidate can be distributed within the registration room. They may be distributed on the outside.

"DANIEL REIDEL, Sheriff.
"JOHN REYNOLDS.
"HUBBARD SCHWARTZ.
Election Commissioners for Campbell county."

The grand jury is in session now, and will be asked to return indictments against those who prompted the violation of the law.

NEGRO WATCHED.

REPUBLICANS PROPOSE TO CAST HIS VOTE.

CIRCULAR LETTER SENT OUT

By Chairman Ernst Advising Him To Turn His Certificate Over To Some Designated Person.

Covington, Ky., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Negro voters in this and other cities and towns in Kenton county have received a circular letter from the Republican Campaign Committee urging them to register to-day, and then deposit their certificates with some bank or some person selected for that purpose. It is stated by some of the negroes that all of the negro voters would deposit their registration certificates at the German National Bank, in which Chairman Ernst is financially interested. It is stated that the bank will make no charge for holding the certificates. The circular letter reads as follows:

Under the State election laws you will be required to register Tuesday, October 4, and this committee trusts that you will not neglect this most important duty. You will receive from the officers of registration a certificate that you are by law required to produce to the officers of election before you can vote, and this committee earnestly urges that you will deposit your certificate with some one who will have been selected to do this duty, who will keep it in some bank, safety vault or other secure place without inconvenience, risk or expense to you, until election day, when he will return it to you at the polls. If your certificate is lost, it will cost you fifty cents to get a duplicate, besides the inconvenience it would occasion. Without the certificate you cannot vote. Respectfully yours,

RICHARD P. ERNST, Chairman.
THOMAS L. WALKER, Secretary.

It is stated that the circular letters have been sent to the negro voters in all municipalities in the State where registration is required, and that in each place some person connected with a bank or some other institution that has a fireproof safe will be designated as the custodian of the certificates.

As will be seen in the text of the letter, the certificate placed on deposit will be returned to the voter at the polls.

CERTIFICATES TAKEN BY WHITE REPUBLICANS.

Idea Originated With Chairman Ernst, Who Sent Orders Out Over the State.

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Both parties were active in getting voters registered here to-day, and nearly the full vote has been gotten out. The Republicans had their negro followers early at the registration places, and at each polling place a local politician who secured from them, or all who would stand for it, their certificates of registration. The display of a lack of confidence upon the part of their white allies incensed some of the colored voters of the better class and they refused to part with their certificates. They declared that they were as well able to keep the certificates until election day as were the white voters, and that if they could not be trusted they would not support the ticket. The scheme of securing the certificates from the negroes is said to have been originated by Campaign Chairman Ernst, and sent out to the party workers all over Kentucky.

The Democrats made a gain of over 300 over that of last year, the majority of independent voters of the last few years registering with their old party affiliations. The registration at the close at 9 o'clock to-night is as follows: Democratic, 1,170; Republicans, 664; non-committal independent, 53. Total, 1,887.

In Henderson County.

Henderson, Ky., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—The first day's registration shows as follows:

In City—Democrats 622, Republicans 726, scattering 128, total 1,476.

Incorporated Towns—Corydon: Democrats 104, Republicans 93, scattering 20. Cairo: Democrats 36, Republicans 5. Spottsville: Democrats 26, Republicans 16, Socialists 30, Prohibitionists 6, Independents 43. Baskett: Democrats 11, Republicans 21, Socialists 5, Independents 5.

At Lexington.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—One of the largest votes ever polled at a registration in this city was brought out by the Democratic party here to-day, and as a result it forecasts one of the biggest majorities ever polled for a Democratic candidate for President in this city and county.

The total registration: Democrats 3,693, Republicans 1,975 and Independent and Prohibitionists 216. A total registration of 5,834.

At Franklin.

Franklin, Ky., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Registration here to-day was light, but showed Democratic gains. When a negro registered a white Republican took his certificate. The supposition is Republicans fear the negroes may sell their certificates and lose their vote.

At Greenup.

Greenup, Ky., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Both parties got out full registration to-day except a few traveling men and those living out of the State, claiming a residence here. They will come in on the supplemental registration, and it is thought not a vote will be lost.

At Versailles.

Versailles, Ky., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—The Republicans lead slightly in the registration here. White Republicans stationed near the polls both here and at Midway took possession of the registration certificates issued to negro voters.

At Harrodsburg.

Harrodsburg, Ky., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Registration day passed off quietly and the full strength of both parties was polled. The Democrats have a majority of 150 over the Republicans.

At Augusta.

Augusta, Ky., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—This city held its first registration today and succeeded in registering a total vote of 452. Democratic leaders claim eighteen majority.

At Russellville.

Russellville, Ky., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—The first registration took place in Russellville to-day. A full vote was not registered, but the Democrats haev the best of it.

At Nicholasville.

Nicholasville, Ky., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—A full registration was polled to-day. Little interest was manifested and the returns show a slight Republican majority.

FLOODS IN OKLAHOMA AND INDIAN TERRITORY.

Waters Are Receding, But Traffic Is Impeded—Seven Men Are Reported Missing.

Oklahoma City, O. T., Oct. 4.—Seven men are missing of a party of eight men who went down with the wagon bridge between Lexington and Purcell last night at 9 o'clock, after battling with the swift rush of waters for many hours in their vain attempt to prevent the bridge from going out, the only connection between the two towns. Judge Hocker, who lives at Byers, near Lexington, is the man heard from, but he can tell nothing of the other men.

As all telegraph and telephone wires in the south and southwest portions of Oklahoma and the southeastern part of the Indian Territory in the flooded districts are down, information is hard to get, but that obtainable is to the effect that the waters are receding. Since last night the Enid and Anadarko bridge, in Caddo county; the Sapulpa-Denison division bridge of the 'Frisco, at Francis, I. T., and the Choctaw bridge, at Calvin, I. T., have gone down. Santa Fe trains coming into this city from the North go as far as Noble and come back. Trains east on the Choctaw cannot go farther than Holdenville. West, on the same road, they turn back at Geary. No mails have been received from the South and Southwest for many hours.

WILLIAM EGARD ON THE WITNESS STAND.

Enters a General Denial To the Charges of Forgery As Made By Prosecution.

Henderson, Ky., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—The defense in the William Egard forgery case had its inning to-day. Witnesses who posed as handwriting experts testified that the alleged forgery was Thomas L. Farley's genuine signature. The defendant, Egard, was on the stand for two hours, and denied almost all the allegations of the prosecution, and more especially the statement of Zack H. Hughes, the star witness for the prosecution.

He stated that Farley signed the assignment in his presence in the back room of the Henderson County Savings Bank, and that his interest in the matter extended no further than taking Farley's acknowledgment.

Character witnesses were then put on the stand, ten to a side, and at adjournment hour, the defense rested.

Judge Henson will give his instructions to the jury to-morrow morning and then the case will be argued. It will likely go to the jury in the afternoon.

Lumber Fire In Tennessee.

Johnson City, Tenn., Oct. 4.—Fire was discovered about noon to-day in the lumber yard of the Unaka Lumber Company, managed and owned by U. S. Archer & Co., of this city. The entire yard was almost totally destroyed before any assistance could be rendered by the fire department. The loss and damage to the yard will reach nearly $200,000. It is known that $70,000 insurance was carried.

DAUGHTERS OF THE CONFEDERACY AT ST. LOUIS.

St. Louis, Oct. 4.—The national convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy met to-day and will continue in session during the remainder of the week. Dr. James W. Lee delivered the invocation, which was followed by the address of welcome by Mrs. A. Washington. Response was made to this and other addresses by Mrs. A. T. Smythe, President General.

Attempt To Destroy a Church.

Monroe, Ind., Oct. 4.—An attempt to destroy the Methodist church here was discovered to-day. Holes which had been bored into the large timbers of the foundation were filled with explosives. The fuse, which was made of straw, was only partially burned.

A Wonderful Combination

In designing our Light Tonneau Car we first obtained Oldsmobile reliability, the next problems were strength, comfort and handsome appearance. Usually automobiles have only one or two of these attributes. We have combined all four in the Oldsmobile Light Tonneau Car at a wonderfuly low price.

The reliability comes from simple mechanism—by knowing what to avoid, what to put in and how to make it. It is a marvel of simple construction and will outclass 95 per cent. of the cars of its weight on the market.

It made the run from New York to St. Louis, 1500 miles, with only one involuntary stop (the breaking of a chain). It was the most reliable car on the run.

The motor is 5½x6 bore and stroke, developing over ten h. p., 30 inch artillery wheels, 3½ inch tires, 7 gallon capacity of both water and gasoline, safety starting device, honey comb radiator, tilting steering post.

Our new Art Catalogue will be mailed to you free.

Oldsmobile 7 h. p. Standard Runabout, $650.00; Touring Runabout, $750.00; Light Tonneau Car, $950.00. All prices f. o. b. factory.

BARTHOLDI, THE SCULPTOR, PASSES AWAY IN PARIS

One of His Famous Works Was the American Statue of Liberty—Realizing His Physical Condition the Sculptor Had Designed His Own Tombstone.

Paris, Oct. 4. — Frederick Auguste Bartholdi, the sculptor, died at 8 o'clock this morning. Hope was abandoned yesterday, but the patient lingered through the night, gasping painfully. His wife remained at his bedside constantly, and three physicians alternated in attendance. Bartholdi had no blood relations, but two of his wife's relatives were with her at the bedside when the sculptor died.

Designed His Own Tombstone.

Tuberculosis developed three years ago, and showed violent symptoms during the last few months, but Bartholdi insisted on continuing work in his studio. During the last days of his work he fully recognized the fatality of the disease, and began to design his own tombstone. This will show an allegorical figure holding out a laurel wreath. It was completed the day before Bartholdi took to his bed.

He leaves an uncompleted important group, intended to be erected in Paris in honor of the aeronauts who distinguished themselves at the siege of Paris. The group partakes somewhat of the uniqueness and magnitude of the Statue of Liberty and shows a huge balloon rising above the figures.

His American Works.

His American works, besides the Statue of Liberty, include the figures of Washington and Lafayette, decorating the Place des Etats Unis here; the Bartholdi fountain, in the Botanical Garden at Washington, and the bronze group of the Leisures of Peace, in New York.

The Temps, of which Bartholdi was one of the directors, says the death of Bartholdi and Gerome removes the greatest of modern sculptors, and relates how Bartholdi's Statue of Liberty was the apotheosis of France's role since the revolution, which led the French Government to offer the statue to the sister republic as a pledge of fraternal devotion to liberty.

Former Students Affected.

For days past former students, models and sculptors had been calling at Bartholdi's residence making anxious inquiries. This morning a young woman, evidently a model, called, and on learning that the master was dead, she went away crying.

The house occupied by the deceased is situated in the center of the Latin quarter, overlooking the Luxembourg Gardens. The interment will be in the cemetery of M

"Business."

Tuesday Evening, Oct. 4.—Business was very active in the stock market to-day, sales amounting to more than 1,200,000 shares and being the largest of the year. St. Paul was the feature, with Steel preferred and Union Pacific sharing in the activity. St. Paul advanced on numerous rumors a total of 7¼ points, and closed with a net gain of 6¾ for the day. The market closed from a point to a fraction below the best prices of the day.

Call money was in good supply at 1½ to 2 per cent. Time loans for short dates were available at 3¼ to 3½ per cent. and for six months at 3½ to 4. Sterling exchange was heavy.

A heavy increase in the world's visible supply of wheat caused a reactionary tendency in that market, closing prices being from ⅝ to ⅞ lower. December corn was off an ⅛, and oats showed a gain of ¼.

After a weak opening, the cotton market had a good recovery, closing with an advance of about 16 points.

The Chicago cattle and sheep markets were steady, and the hog market steady to 5c higher.

The Cigar Stamp Decision.

All is grist that comes to the Republican mill. The organs are claiming credit for the decision given in the matter of the stamp on boxes of imported cigars as being a blow at the Tobacco Trust. The unpopularity of this combine is cunningly used to claim a credit that is not due.

When the tobacco growers of this country made an appeal for a change in the law that would release them from the clutches of the trust by allowing them to prepare their product for the market in the best way without paying a fine as though they were manufacturing without paying the tax, the trust which they had attacked had influence enough to defeat these efforts to obtain the relief sought. The matter was discussed, and every Congressman had an opportunity to know the facts. But the Administration influence was against relief, and it was denied. But because the Tobacco Trust is incidentally interested in the cigar stamp, it is pretended that the decision in that case is due to hostility to a trust.

The stamp which is to be changed was adopted under legislation enacted in 1866. The domestic makers of cigars which are sold as Havanas argued that the stamp on the box, being conspicuous, acted as an advertisement for imported cigars, and the Secretary of the Treasury in effect so decided. He said it was the business of the Government to collect the revenue, but it was not its business to furnish a guarantee in the shape of a trademark. He also said that cigars are the only commodity imported into the United States receiving the benefit of such a trademark. Hence, the decision is that the stamp shall be reduced in size and hid away under the bottom of the box.

In what way did the stamp serve as an advertisement? Simply by showing that the goods were imported. The domestic producers claim to make cigars equally as good from Havana tobacco. If this is true, a stamp showing that goods are imported gives no advantage. It is not an advertisement that the cigars are good, but that they were made abroad. Some smokers, a minority, no doubt, wish to smoke the pure Havanas. They think they have a better chance to get them if they get goods made in Havana. This is regarded by some as a depraved taste, which the Government ought severely to discourage. But it has already discouraged it by imposing a tax on imported cigars and cigarettes of $4.50 a pound and 25 per cent. ad valorem, equivalent to more than 100 per cent. on the value of imports. As the importers have paid the penalty of the misdemeanor of bringing in goods from abroad they think they ought to get credit for having done so. If the smoker, with an unpatriotic taste for pure Havanas, wishes to protect himself from bad cigars, he must likewise pay the penalties with profits added, and he thinks when he has done this he has done his share to support the Government, and is entitled to know what he is buying. But the Government says that it must be made harder for him to do this, for it will not advertise the fact that it has collected more than a hundred per cent. duty on a box of cigars.

But this is not really the gist of the matter. A recent dispatch on the subject of the stamp contains this passage:

"It is said that this committee (of independent manufacturers), in addition to rehearsing the arguments in favor of the new stamp, did some plain talking to Mr. Roosevelt as to the number of voters they represented, and the effect upon such voters of a decision in favor of the present stamp, or, as they put it, in favor of the Tobacco Trust. They also declared that they wanted a decision at once, and that any effort to postpone the settlement of the issue until after the election would be interpreted as action hostile to the interests they represented."

In the same line an organ of the independent manufacturers said that the question would not be postponed until after the election, because if it was nothing would be done. The matter was put frankly on the ground that it was to the interest of the Republicans in the pending campaign to change the practice of forty years at once, and the change was ordered accordingly. Under the circumstances, it is pretty cheeky to claim that this was done to hurt a trust. When the farmers of Kentucky and Tennessee asked that the law should not help the trust they were told that it was impossible to comply with their request.

Ready To Spring.

Mr. Glenn, the Democratic nominee for Governor of North Carolina, in a recent speech, described Theodore Roosevelt as an assailant of the entire white people of the South. One would suppose that this went without saying. The President has certainly made no bones about it, nor attempted to conceal it. His conduct in office sufficiently proves it. Yet, when Mr. Glenn quoted him to the effect that "strains of coarse brutality ran through the Southern people," he put himself to the pains of denying it through Mr. Rollins, State chairman of the North Carolina Republicans. Now comes Mr. Glenn with the deadly specification. On page 161 of Mr. Roosevelt's "Life of Benton," copyrighted in 1886, Mr. Roosevelt uses the following language: "Slavery was chiefly responsible for the streak of coarse and brutal barbarism which ran through the Southern character." Mr. Roosevelt's denial to Chairman Rollins was "that the Glenn statement was absolutely false." All of which is perfectly characteristic of the shifty politician caught in a corner.

"There are two Roosevelts in the field," says Carl Schurz, in a recent letter. "The ideal, the legendary Roosevelt, as he once appeared, and as many people imagine him still to be; and the real Roosevelt, as he has since developed. There are no doubt many good citizens who think of voting for Roosevelt, having the legendary Roosevelt in mind; but they will do well to consider that, if elected, the real Roosevelt will be President."

The Courier-Journal has repeatedly shown that Theodore Roosevelt is the implacable enemy of the white people of the South and that he is bent upon reopening the sectional controversy partly to gratify his hatred and partly to feather his nest.

If he is elected President, and the Republicans carry the House, as they are likely to do in case he is elected, we shall have at an early day the vitalization of the Crumpacker scheme to reduce the representation of the Southern States in Congress and in the Electoral College. The train is laid. The plans are set. Nothing is wanting but a clear track of four years ahead, giving time and opportunity to fire the Northern heart and to finish the job. The "Solid South" is pretext enough. Then, with the Trusts behind them, ho, for a Solid North, committed to every extravagance, to every extremism which personal greed and party spirit run mad may devise.

The South is "solid" only for its own preservation. The people of the South are no more disposed to divide on sectional lines than the people of the North. They did not bring the Negro here. No more than the North did they enslave him. They are not responsible for his enfranchisement. The issue growing out of existing conditions is racial, not sectional, or political. Its ramifications go to the very roots of our domestic fabric, social, economic and political. We cannot get away from the Negro as long as we are threatened by him either from without, or within, and we shall be threatened by him both from without and within as long as he is made the subject of political agitation by a party at the North actively hostile to us and our civilization.

This party of agitation and aggression happens at this time to be led by Theodore Roosevelt. He is half of Southern extraction, so that the "strain of coarse barbarism" he refers to he must have discovered in his own blood; anyhow he shows it surely enough. He is President of the United States. He is a candidate for re-election. As President, he has brought the race question to the fore-ground. He, and not the South, has injected it anew into our politics. In every way he has advanced it as an issue and assailed us as a people. He has attacked our character as Christian men and women. He has impugned our patriotism and our loyalty as citizens. He has undone, as far as one man can undo, twenty-five years of Sectional peace-making.

He is the most undoubting of Sectionalists. He stands the self-confident bigot, as well as the self-applauding candidate, of a Section. Thaddeus Stevens, in his day, was not more intolerant. Ben Wade, inspired by the passions of actual war, was not more implacable. With one hand he flourishes the "big stick" of "equality" over us, whilst in the other—behind his back—he holds in reserve a third Force Bill, to "purify" Southern elections and to reduce the South's representation in Congress and in the Electoral College, to the end that he and his party may have their own way and recreate us in their very likeness. Though in the attempt racial war be precipitated in the Southern country, it is nothing to him and his fellow-partisans. The Negro, having been made a White Man by law, must, if he is unable to maintain himself, be maintained a White Man by force.

Meanwhile the people of the South are Christian people just like the people of the North. They want to do right. They ask only justice. Never a Northern community, where the negro becomes too much in evidence, or happens to be too numerous for comfort, but has thoubles of its own—sometimes bloodshed—often riot, and, if not violent expulsion, notice for the negroes to get out. Yet, in the South, we have them with us in overflowing masses and every hour of the day and night.

Under normal conditions it is a hard nut to crack, a complicated problem to solve. The President comes with his big stick to make it harder. The Republican party swoops down upon us to make it impossible. But we must not say a word. If we whimper we are accused of "treasons, stratagems and spoils."

Does the business man of the North, do the God-fearing, Christian men and women of the North, want four more years of sectional agitation, merely to gratify the malevolence of Theodore Roosevelt and to secure him, and the ring of corruptionists who surround him, in power? Has all sense of popular fellowship, all love of truth for truth's sake, all thought of fraternity and justice gone out of the Northern mind and heart? We shall not believe it until we see it set down in black and white by the vote of the coming 8th of November.

Put Up, Or Shut Up!

Says the Chicago Evening Post:

"Henry Watterson consumes two columns of the valuable space of his paper in an attempt to answer a three-line paragraph in the Evening Post. We beg the pardon of the Courier-Journal readers."

A single drop of poison may be as effectual as a cupful, and three lines of print, hardly less than twenty, sometimes convey the most mischievous impression; but in the foregoing the Post is both disingenuous and inaccurate. The paragraph to which it refers embraced eight, not three lines, whilst the "attempt" to "answer" it, barely exceeded a column.

It is a habit of the pert paragrapher, when an article in the Courier-Journal happens to run over from one column into another to call it two columns, though the actual measuremen be only half a column. We make no point of this, however, but recur to the subject matter in issue. The "three lines" of the Post, which the Courier-Journal made the "attempt" to "answer" read as follows—

"Clark Howell and Henry Watterson may just as well understand that the North expressed its views of the Negro Question in 1861, and that any attempt to inject the race issue into the campaign this fall will absolutely ruin whatever chance the Democrats may have of carrying a Northern State."

This was such a perversion of history and at the same time so unprovoked as an allusion that, for purposes of illustration merely, we took it up and exposed it. That the Post is willing so lightly to dismiss it is proof enough that we made at least one convert. Next to frank confession, evasion is the sincerest form of admission. So, trot along, sonny, and sin no more!

Senator Hoar.

The long and honorable life of Senator Hoar had a fitting close. After a distinguished career as a lawyer he served eight years in the House, was thence elevated to the Senate, and was serving his fifth consecutive term. Although having passed his seventy-eighth year, he had, until the illness from which death supervened, shown no abatement in mental or bodily vigor. In passing gently and by gradual stages down the decline, he had a foretaste, in the kind sympathy which was expressed for him throughout the whole land, North and South, of the regret now entertained for his loss and the honor which is being everywhere paid to his memory. In the elements of worth, both moral and intellectual, and in that individuality which made his figure long conspicuous in public life, he ranks with the purest type of American statesmen. Of strong natural gifts, his mind had been cultivated and adorned with the graces of a thorough classical education which made him conspicuous in debate for the breadth of his acquired knowledge and the cultured form in which he utilized it in support of his convictions. From such fortunate advantages of education and the uses to which he applied them, he rose above the level of the mere advocate or politician, and evinced in many ways the breadth of the statesman.

A thorough New Englander in the tenacity of the views inculcated in him, Mr. Hoar developed qualities which distinguished him from the ordinary type, as the result of his broader culture and his more extended opportunities for observation and the study of men of opposite views and reared under other conditions. Tenacious of his opinions on all subjects and especially those of a sectional or political character, his long association with Southern men in Washington tempered the asperity of his early feelings, developed a better appreciation of their character and resulted in a mutual cordiality which manifested itself in forms pleasant to recall, now that he is no more. For some years this was indicated not only by the intimacy of his personal relations with his fellow Senators from the South, but upon various occasions found expression in his public addresses, a number of which might be cited. The latest was one delivered somewhat over a year ago before the Union League in Chicago, in which, referring to past sectional antagonisms, he said:

"As I grow older I have learned not only to respect and esteem, but to love the great qualities which belong to my fellow-citizens of the Southern States. They are a noble race. We may well take pattern from them in some of the great virtues which make up the strength as they make up the glories of the free States. Their love of home, their chivalrous respect for women, their courage, their delicate sense of honor, their constancy which can abide by an opinion or purpose or an interest for their States through adversity and through prosperity, through the years and through the generations, are things by which the people of the more mercurial North may take a lesson. And there is another thing—covetousness, corruption, the low temptation of money, have not yet found any place in our Southern politics."

It is by such expressions that Senator Hoar won from the people of the South the respect and friendship which thus became mutual. By the light of such tribute from one incapable of flattery or insincerity, the people of the South can well afford to pass unheeded the opposite sentiments of those who in uttering them only expose their ignorance and prejudice. Senator Hoar once held them himself, but had the manliness to confess his error of judgment. It was characteristic of a man who placed honor above all else, and upon whose tomb there could be no higher epitaph than that he had served in Congress thirty five years, and yet died a poor man.

Belated Justice.

In Bellefontaine cemetery, St. Louis, there was unveiled on Sunday with appropriate ceremonies a monument over the grave of Gov. William Clark, the associate of Meriwether Lewis in the celebrated expedition to the Pacific, a century ago. It was not a public but a private testimonial to his memory, provided by the will of his son Jefferson K. Clark, who several years ago by his will left $10,000 for that purpose. While an appropriate tribute from a son to a father in commemorating his name and great service to the country it tends only to emphasize the neglect which the people who have reaped the value of his work, and that of his companion, have shown in the absence of any similar recognition. Neither the city of St. Louis, in which he lived for a third of a century, the State of Missouri, of which he was long Territorial Governor, nor the General Government, all of which have erected monuments to other of their distinguished citizens of less service, have contributed anything to the perpetuation of his memory in granite or bronze. The neglect in this respect has been only less than that as to the memory of his distinguished brother, George Rogers Clark, whose conttribution to the territorial limits of the country through his military genius, was in point of area equally great and in point of present value and importance even greater.

This is not just to the memory of such benefactors of the country, and the present is a fitting occasion to emphasize it, to the end that proper amends may be made for the neglect. The remains of Meriwether Lewis lie in an obscure county of Tennessee, marked by a monument erected many years ago by the Legislature of that State, while those of George Rogers Clark repose in a private lot in our local cemetery, marked by a simple granite headstone. Kentucky and the city of Louisville, of both of which the latter may be said to have been the civic founder, have been long derelict in their duty to his memory, and belated justice seems to suggest that appropriate measures should be taken to discharge the just debt due for his great services in some appropriate testimonial commensurate with his well earned fame. At the same time those who are the beneficiaries of other deeds should make similar recognition of the services rendered to the country by the heroes of the Lewis and Clark exploration.

When the Department of Commerce and Labor was created and Mr. Cortelyou was placed at the head of it in recognition of his servces as private secretary to the President, one of the chief arguments used in recommendation of the creation of a new Cabinet officer, when apparently the same service could be rendered by a bureau, was that the statistics compiled by the department would be of invaluable service to the public. The fallacy of such expectation has, however, been exposed, and it is now announced that such information is not accessible to the public, but intended only for the use of the President. The following official letter, in answer to a letter of inquiry from a citizen of New York, which appeared in a late issue of the New York Times, makes this remarkable disclosure:

"Department of Commerce and Labor, Bureau of Corporations, Washington, April 6, 1904.—Mr. J. L. Anthony, 25 Broad street, New York, N. Y.—Sir: Replying further to your favors of March 11 and July 16, 1903, relative to the American Ice Company, and the clippings inclosed herewith, allow me to say that under the statute creating this bureau we have no authority to make such investigations as you desire for the direct use of stockholders. The bureau can, by the express terms of the act creating it, obtain information only for the use of the President. Very respectfully,

"JAMES RUDOLPH GARFIELD,
"Commissioner."

"The Atlanta Constitution says there will be no mud-slinging by the Democrats. Has Clark Howell forgotten his speech at the recent banquet of the Democratic editors?"—[Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

Why, in his Waldorf-Astoria speech, Clark Howell uttered no word, made no reference, which by any construction could be described, as "mud-slinging;" but, with the average sycophant of the Republican press, to question Teddy is to perpetrate lese majeste.

There is every reason to believe that the report that the Republicans are preparing to import negroes from Kentucky and Tennessee, where they are not needed, to vote in Indiana next month, is well founded. This is an old scheme of the Indiana Republicans whenever they are scared, and its revival at this time is satisfactory evidence that they are alarmed about the vote of the State this year.

"The Brooklyn Eagle says that imperialism must not be made an issue; Col. Watterson says it is the only one.—[Philadelphia Inquirer.

That depends upon what is meant by "imperialism." The Courier-Journal is chiefly concerned with internal not external conditions. Four years more of Teddy spells ruin to the South.

There are but two regular registration days this year, instead of three as formerly. Bear in mind that this is the last day.

CLASHES

Between Outposts May Indicate Forward Movement

OF THE JAPANESE FORCES.

WESTERN RUSSIA GUARDS ORDERED TO FAR EAST.

NO NEWS FROM PORT ARTHUR.

Frequent fighting between Japanese advance guards and Cossacks on the south front of Gen. Kuropatkin's army, reported in dispatches to the Russian War Office, is regarded as indicative of the near approach of a general forward movement by the forces of Field Marshal Oyama. It is estimated that since the battle of Liao Yang, 40,000 of the guards stationed in Western Russia have been ordered to the Far East. No word has been received as to the condition of affairs at Port Arthur.

GEN. SAKHAROFF'S REPORT

Tells of Minor Engagements Between the Army Outposts.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 4.—The War Office has received the following dispatch from Gen. Sakharoff, dated October 3:

"At dawn of October 1 a squadron of Japanese cavalry twice attempted to break through the line of advance posts of Cossacks of the guard in the district between Knuankhuandia and Fengtiapu. Both attempts were unsuccessful. Two sotnias of our cavalry re-enforced the advance posts, and the Japanese dispersed.

"Toward noon the same day one battalion of the Japanese advance guard, with two or three squadrons of cavalry, renewed the offensive movement against a regiment of Cossacks. The firing lasted until nightfall. Gen. Mistchenko sent re-enforcements to the aid of the Cossacks, and toward evening the enemy was repulsed at all points, the whole line retreating toward Sialionkhetzy, pursued by our cavalry.

"Capt. Tolstoukine, commander of a sotnia, ambushed one of the enemy's patrols at Konschutzy. One Japanese officer was killed.

"In the positions abandoned by the Japanese our Cossacks found a number of cartridges and medical stores, and also a few dead horses. We had two officers and two Cossacks wounded.

"The same day a Japanese force of one battalion and a half and a squadron of cavalry attacked in three divisions our outposts between the Hun ris, where they have been attending the exposition. river and the railway. Toward evening this movement was checked with the help of another company which re-enforced the outpost. One Cossack was killed and one wounded.

"One Russian patrol dispersed two Japanese patrols in the vicinity of Tchjantan, on the right bank of the Hun river, taking three Japanese prisoners.

"Another Russian patrol sent in an easterly direction discovered Tawanghau Pass occupied by two hundred Chinese bandits, commanded by Japanese officers. During the reconnaissance one Cossack was killed."

A SERIES OF SKIRMISHES

Reported On the Southern Front of Kuropatkin's Army.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 5, 1:15 a. m.—Official advices from the Far East given out this evening describe a series of skirmishes on the southern front of Gen. Kuropatkin's army, the only importance of which lies in the fact that the Japanese are showing a disposition to press forward and feel out the Russian positions. Gen. Mistchenko's Cossacks in every case drove back the opposing forces.

The activity of the Japanese outposts is doubtless intended to screen movements of their armies, and therefore may be regarded as precursory symptoms of final preparations for an advance, which probably will begin within a week.

A special messenger has brought to the Emperor Gen. Kuropatkin's full report of the battle of Liao Yang. The messenger who submitted to an interview, declares that the main army is concentrated at Tie Pass, and that it is not likely Gen. Kuropatkin will make a determined stand at Mukden.

Assassination Story Denied.

Paris, Oct. 4.—The Japanese Legation has given out a statement denying the reports in French newspapers charging that the missing French and German naval attaches at Port Arthur, respectively, Lieut. de Couverville and Capt. von Gilgenheim, were assassinated by the Japanese while leaving Port Arthur on a Chinese junk. The statement says that no such junk has been captured.

Chinese Fighting With Japs.

London, Oct. 5.—According to the Morning Post's correspondent at Mukden, Chinese bandits, organized into regular troops, are fighting daily side by side with the Japanese on their west flanks south of Sinmintin.

Hit 'Em Again!

[Ackley, Iowa, World.]

Col. Watterson says that if Parker is made President he will keep a civil tongue in his head. If Parker does this he will do better than Watterson is in the habit of doing.—[Webster City Freeman-Tribune.

If to speak the truth is arrogance, Col. Watterson stands convicted. But if there were a thousand Wattersons instead of one, reverence of law and order would be more general, the "civil" rights of citizens more secure.

Fairbanks On Return Trip.

Sacramento, Cal., Oct. 4.—Senator Fairbanks to-day started upon his return trip from the Pacific coast, but, although considerable distance was covered, he did not get far on his way. Stops for speeches were made at Palo Alto, San Jose, Livermore and Stockton. Senators Fairbanks and Fulton made speeches at all these points, as they did also here to-night.

To Commission the Chattanooga.

"ON DIT."

Wednesday, October 5.

Bliss, Ky., is a small town situated in the southern part of the State. Its origin and christening are points on which there is little but doubtful history, but if the meaning of the word signifies its purpose in existence, the town was not founded wholly in vain. Situated near Columbia, in Adair county, it will become in the next few days the home of two new and happy couples. The homes were made possible last night at the Willard Hotel, when the Rev. S. P. Scruggs, of Columbia, and the Rev. A. L. Mell, of Greenville, carried out the ceremonies which joined two couples in the bond of marriage. The young persons were G. A. Atkins and Miss Emma Browning, M. B. Grissom and Miss Rosalie Flowers. After spending a few days in Louisville the parties to the double wedding will return to their homes in Bliss.

C. C. Ricketts, of Bardstown, has become so infatuated with the automobile craze that accidents and street car smashups do not dampen his ardor in any respect. He came to Louisville about a week ago and bought an automobile. Mr. Ricketts was then anything but an expert chauffeur, but the intervening seven days have done wonders for him. After several experiences with an expert for his guardian, Mr. Ricketts decided to venture forth alone. At First and Main streets he encountered a street car which was coming around the corner, and the fender proved to be made of sterner stuff than the axle of the automobile. The automobile consequently was the sufferer. That was the only accident of a serious aspect in which Mr. Ricketts was involved, and he now claims to be able to run his machine without fear of traction engines or locomotives. He was at the Willard Hotel last night, and will take his automobile home through the country, the necessary repairs having been made.

Seldom before in the history of the city have the hotels been so crowded, except on occasions of great public celebrations. Numerous Horse Show visitors, as well as delegates to the Barbers' convention, have taken up their quota of space, and the army of commercial travelers and World's Fair tourists who are in Louisville in the regular course of events swell the total to a number altogether above the capacity of the hotels. Every well-known place in town is storing away guests on cots in bathrooms and every other available place, and numbers who prefer other accommodations are making the search which is necessary to find them among the private boarding-houses of the city. Sample rooms are engaged days ahead, and the same is true of regular sleeping apartments.

W. L. Nichol, Carence Chase and J. M. Overton form a party of Nashville friends who are in Louisville to see the Horse Show. All are enthusiastic admirers of good horse flesh, and they all take a more or less active part in the Nashville Horse Show, which has been an annual event there for four years. Mr. Chase is especially fond of horses, and has taken several prizes with a roadster which he owns. In discussing the relative merits of Kentucky and Tennessee horses he said at the Louisville Hotel:

"Both States produce such fine specimens of horses that little can be said about the product of one that cannot be said about the other. Each has its famous stock farms, and while Kentucky is probably a little more widely known than Tennessee as a horse center, this State hardly has a farm with a history that can rival that of Belle Meade, the grand old stock farm which is known from one end of the country to the other, wherever the thoroughbred is known at all. Still I have nothing to say which will detract from Kentucky's glory."

Polk Prince, of Guthrie, who is one of the active factors in the Dark District Tobacco Growers' Association, which was recently formed, was in Louisville yesterday, staying at Seelbach's Hotel. The farmers of the dark district are still working toward the end of increasing the value of their product, and everyone has confidence of success.

"Coal is crowding tobacco off the boards in our county," said G. W. Eaves, of Greenville, who was in the city last night. "In former years it was customary for us to send thousands upon thousands of pounds of tobacco strips out of Muhlenberg county every year. The hum of that industry has been stilled, but the whirl of a mining community is fast succeeding it. We are opening new mines at a rapid rate, and nothing can bar the way for a great coal district in our section."

SURRENDERS.

TOLD MAYOR OF COLUMBUS HE HAD COMMITTED A CRIME.

He Killed Four Persons In Missouri Sunday Night While Crazed With Fever.

Columbus, Ky., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Charles Geitrell, who shot and killed four persons at O'Brien's Landing, Mo., Sunday night while in a fit of delirium caused by fever, arrived here at daylight this morning and surrendered to Mayor J. S. Davis. Geitrell stated he had committed a crime, but claims to know nothing about how it was done. A slightly pale look is the only indication of recent sickness. An attempt to interview Geitrell was entirely futile. He refused absolutely to give an account of the shooting, and how he spent the time from then until he surrendered. Geitrell objected to being taken back to Missouri without requisition. Mayor Davis notified the Sheriff of Mississippi county at Charleston, Mo., that the fugitive had surrendered. William Bates, of Memphis, and relatives of Horn Lake, Miss., were telegraphed to. Young Geitrell is guarded. Geitrell was without arms when taken in custody here, and is wearing good clothes. This refutes the first statement that he escaped in his night dress, shoeless and hatless, with two pistols. The Sheriff of Charleston, Mo., is expected to-morrow to take the prisoner there.

Negro Hanged At Washington.

Washington, Pa., Oct. 4.—James Callihan, colored, was hanged in the county jail yard here to-day for the murder of Moss Bay, also colored, at West Washington last February. Bay's alleged intimacy with Mrs. Callihan, who is a white woman from Kentucky, was the cause of the killing.

The sale of seats commences this morning at Macauley's for King Edward's famous Grenadier Guards Band, which comes next Sunday afternoon and night.

There are over twenty musical numbers in "The Sambo Girl," the new Smith & Kerker piece, in which Miss Eva Tanguay will be seen at Macauley's the first of next week.

One of the features of "Busy Izzy," at the Masonic this week, is Fred Wyckoff in a "Rube" role. Mr. Wyckoff sings a ditty entitled "I Ain't As Green As I Look," assisted by a male and female chorus of ludicrously-gowned "hayseeds," who give an exhibition of eccentric dancing.

There is a great deal of comedy in the offering of the Hopkins for the week, and one of the most ludicrous turns in the list is that of Waterbury Brothers and Tenny. They are versatile performers upon musical instruments, and they enliven their work with much broad fun.

Anne Blancke, the diminutive star of "The Little Outcast" company, this week's attraction at the Avenue Theater, had an amusing experience last week, based on her unusually childish appearance. Dressed in a short skirt and girlish hat, the little actress and her manager made a desperate run to catch a train at Centralia, Ill. Arriving too late to purchase tickets, Manager Jacoby inquired of the conductor the fare to Louisville. Glancing down at the close-cropped, curly poll of the tiny girl, the astute official replied: "$5.75 for you, and half fare for the child."

"Flood Tide," which will be next week's attraction at the Masonic Theater, is said to contain a number of amusing characters, which, while extremely eccentric, are said to portray faithfully the picturesque rural New England types. One of these is old "Zekiel Bly," a forlorn and helpless widower attempting to raise a pair of impish boys, who are well aware of their parent's incapacity.

"A Desperate Chance" will be presented at the Avenue next week.

Combs is prominent in business and political circles in Perry county politics.

CONFERS WITH ATTORNEYS.

Attorney General Hays Preparing To Test Day Law.

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Attorney General Hays has returned here from a conference held with Commonwealth's Attorney Crutcher and County Attorney Cobb, of the Madison county district, for the testing of the question of constitutionality of the Day law aimed at coeducation of the races at Berea College. Some days since the trustees of that college secured a restraining order in the United States District Court at Covington to prevent the officials above named from interfering with the work of the school. The attorneys determined to indict the college in the Madison Circuit Court, and thus have a case that can be carried through the State courts and on to the Supreme Court of the United States.

Newcomb, of Louisville, as a member of the General Assembly was received at the Executive Department today and accepted by Gov. Beckham. Mr. Newcomb is a Democratic elector for the Fifth congressional district, and his resignation is due to the question of incompatibility of the two offices. It is doubtful if they are incompatible, but he thought best to resign as legislator and avoid the raising of the question later.

Attorney General Busy.

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—The Attorney General has several cases to argue in the Court of Appeals here which will prevent him going upon the stump within the next week or two. He had hoped to go on the opening day, but was prevented from doing so by his duties here. Later he expects to be able to make a number of speeches at appointments to be made by the Democratic State Campaign Committee.

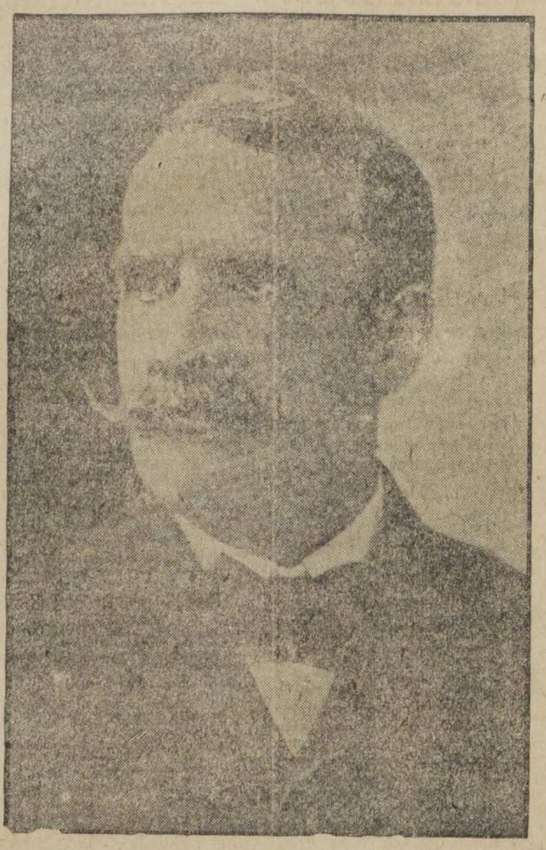
POSTMASTER GENERAL WHO DIED YESTERDAY



THE LATE HENRY C. PAYNE.

fifteen began to look about for a position to help pay for his livelihood.

Sweeps Post-office As Boy.

It was then that he entered Uncle Sam's postal service. He told the village postmaster that for $1 a week he would be at the post-office early every morning, would sweep and dust the place, and do such errands as he had time for outside of his school hours.

After being errand boy for about a year he left school and became a clerk in the dry goods store of John Sherwin, in Shelburne Falls. Later Sherwin moved to Northampton, and young Payne went with him. When, in 1863, Sherwin moved to Milwaukee and opened a large retail and wholesale store there, Payne went with him and entered the employ of Sherwin, Nowell & Pratt as book-keeper. Prior to that time he had, on the outbreak of the Civil War, tried to enlist with the Tenth Massachusetts volunteers, bue being undersized he was rejected.

Becomes Partner In Milwaukee.

So faithfully did the young man work that he soon won a reputation, and in 1865 became a partner of the house and subsequently with the successors of the firm. Sherwin withdrew and went to New York and opened a large wholesale house, which soon proved a financial failure. Sherwin went down with a crash and carried the Milwaukee house in which Payne was a partner with him. The house there wound up in bankruptcy.

Having lost all he had, Payne started out to make a fresh start in life. He had been married just before the failure, and his position was trying. With the grit for which he was noted he started into an entirely new line of business, and with the late Benjamin Weil became associated in the insurance business.

Goes Into Politics.

It was not a business in which he became wealthy, but he lived and got along. At the same time he got into Republican politics, and in 1872 he first came to the front in Milwaukee. It was during the Grant-Greeley campaign. Many of the old-time party men were for Greeley; the younger element was for Grant. Payne was a young man, not yet thirty, and he set out to organize the young Republican voters into the Young Men's Republican League.

Recognized As Leader.

It was in this work that Payne first attracted attention as a successful campaign manager. From that time on he rose rapidly in politics. His executive ability as a handler of men and as an organizer was recognized by the older heads of the party, and he became one of the local leaders. In 1876 President Grant appointed him postmaster of Milwaukee. Presidents Hayes and Arthur reappointed him. As postmaster, Payne had plenty of time to devote to politics, both State and local, and he made good use of it. He became a member of the State Central Committee and later its secretary, and then its chairman.

Becomes a Power.

His rise was rapid, and the success he had achieved as a local leader sent him a notch higher, and as State chairman he was regarded as the head of the party. He was clever and astute, and much of the credit of the party success in those days belongs to him. He was a fine organizer, and his counsel was sought by all candidates. He became a power not only in county and State but national politics, serving as chairman of the Republican State Committee, and also representing the State in the Republican National Committee for more than ten years.

His Business Interests.

While holding the position of postmaster Mr. Payne became interested in various large corporate interests. He had become a heavy stockholder of the Wisconsin Telephone Company and became its president. He branched out and while still interested in the telephone company went into the street railway line. Early in the 90s he conceived the idea of consolidating the local street car lines. There were four of them, all operated by horse and mule power, and giving inferior service. With the aid of Mitchell he succeeded in interesting Eastern capital, and the Milwaukee Electric Railway and Light Company was organized and got control of the four car lines and the two lighting plants.

Reorganizes Car Lines.

The car lines were changed to electric systems, and he became vice president of the company and resident director. The service became first class, but the price paid for the lines had been too great, and the line went into the hands of a receiver, to which position Payne was appointed. It has since been reorganized, with a capital of some $16,000,000, and is now on a paying basis.

In 1893 Mr. Payne was elected president of the American Street Railway Association. He was president of the Milwaukee Electric Railway and Light Company, director of the Wisconsin Telephone Company.

Postmaster General Since 1902.

Mr. Payne was selected for Postmaster General by President McKinley in the summer of 1901, and assumed the office on January 8, 1902, under appointment from President Roosevelt.

Sorrow In Milwaukee.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 4.—News of the death of Postmaster General Henry C. Payne, while not unexpected, came as a shock to the thousands of friends and acquaintances in Milwaukee, which had been his home for the past forty years. Many expressions of regret were heard on every hand.

DECISION ADVERSE TO JAMES-GILLESPIE.

Supreme Court Refuses To Strike Out the Attorney General's Brief.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 4.—The Supreme Court to-day refused to strike out the Attorney General's brief in the habeas corpus suit brought by James Gillespie against the Sheriff of Ohio county. The motion filed by Gillespie's attorneys charged that the Attorney General had "intermeddled," without warrant of law, and was undertaking to represent a person who had not employed him.

The Attorney General's brief suggests some reasons why the grounds relied on by Gillespie for his discharge from arrest for the murder are not available in this appeal, even if the court should decide the law to be as his attorneys insist it is.

DUKE HENRY BORWIN INJURED IN A DUEL.

Berlin, Oct. 4.—Duke Henry Borwin, of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, who, as announced September 27, was shot while out partridge shooting by Prince Othon of Schoenburg-Waldenburg, was, according to a widespread report, wounded in a duel, not by a hunting accident. The Tageblatt, however, says that as the result of an investigation of the case it can say that the Duke was really shot accidentally by a gentleman in the party of the Prince of Schoenburg-Waldenburg, as originally announced, and that the Duke was successfully operated upon at the hospital to which he was taken.

Maj. Gen. Wade To Return.

Manila, Oct. 4.—Maj. Gen. James F. Wade, the retiring commander of the Philippine division, sails for home on the transport Thomas October 15. Pending the arrival of Maj. Gen. Corbin, who succeeds to the command of the division, Gen. Leonard Wood will act as commanding general.

CLASH

Between Mayor and Law and Order League.

SUNDAY ORDERS TOO RIGID.

LEWIS MITCHELL REFUSED TO TALK TO DETECTIVE.

NATHANIEL HART IS DEAD.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—About the strict enforcement of the law in regard to the closing of saloons and other business houses in this city last Sunday, when so much discomfort was heaped upon the people of this city, both the Law and Order League and Mayor Combs are out with cards to-day explaining their positions in the matter, and from present indications it is believed another Sunday like the last one will put the people in general in such a state of mind that they will take the law in their own hands, and defy such rigid orders as were issued by the Chief of Police last Saturday. The Law and Order League say that it was only a scheme of the Mayor and Board of Police Commissioners when they attempted to prevent the sale of milk and ice, to further their aims with the saloonkeepers and gambling element, and maintain that the character of the order issued by the commissioners last Saturday was intended as a blow to the efficiency of the league. On the other hand, Mayor Combs says that the order issued by the commission was done after he had been before the grand jury and told by that body that the people wanted the places closed up. He says that if the people are sincere in wanting a strict enforcement of the Sunday-closing law, he will use the full power of his office to see that the mandate of the law is carried out. He says he has no desire to inconvenience any one, but that he will have observance of every statute and every ordinance that is on the books applicable to the city of Lexington.

Mitchell Would Not Talk.

Capt. Luke P. Colleran, the Chicago detective, who was brought to this city by James J. Mulligan to assist in probing the mystery surrounding the attempt to poison the Mulligan family last Saturday, visited the jail this morning with a view of having a talk with the negro Lewis Mitchell, who is under arrest charged with administering the poison. Capt. Colleran was accompanied by Chief of Police Reagan and young Mulligan and spent about an hour with the prisoner trying to get him to tell what he knew of the attempt, and, although he has made a sworn confession implicating young Mulligan as being the guilty party, he to-day refused to discuss the case with the detectives until he had been advised by his attorney, James Denny. Whenever the conversation touched on the alleged crime Mitchell would tell the officers that he would not discuss it unless his attorney was present and allowed him to do so. Attorney Denny called at the jail late this afternoon and had a long talk with his client, but he too refused to give out the nature of the interview. It is understood that Mitchell is anxious for a trial, and he will likely answer ready when the case is called before Magistrate Oldham Friday morning. The visit of James Mulligan at the jail this morning is the first time he has seen the negro Mitchell since he came last Tuesday with the intention of clearing himself of the grave charge made against him by the negro.

Ott, daughter of Mrs. Mary H. Ott, and sister of Messrs. George B. and Frank G. Ott. Mr. Hart belonged to one of the oldest and most distinguished families in the State, and was a young man of unusual business ability. He had for several years been an employe of C. F. Grower & Co., by whom he was highly esteemed. He is survived by a wife of a few weeks and two brothers and two sister, John I. Hart, of this county, Dudley Hart, of Newport News, Va.; Mrs. Annie H. Williams, of Fayette county, and Mrs. Oscar N. Featherstone, of Eden Vale, Cal.

Funeral of Maj. McClelland.

The funeral service over the remains of Maj. H. B. McClelland, who died suddenly last Saturday night, were held at 3 o'clock this afternoon from the First Presbyterian church. Dr. Edwin Muller, pastor of the church, conducted the services which were very brief and quite simple, there being no funeral oration or hymns. The organ sent forth its plaintive sounds, and there was a prayer and a reading from God's Holy Writ, and the services had ended. On account of the sudden death of Maj. McClelland, his family were nearly prostrated, and it was at their request that the services were simple, and also that no flowers be sent to the grave. Mr. John McClelland, son of the deceased, arrived Monday night from his home in Boston to be present with the other members of the family at the funeral.

$250 IN CASH PRIZES
WILL BE GIVEN TO
Courier-Journal Readers

Who will send in a complete set of Correct Answers, or the largest number of Correct Answers in a set, to the FIVE QUESTIONS that will be asked the

Woggle Bug

During the month of October, one question being asked each Sunday. A complete set of answers means thirty-one, one coupon on which answers must be written being published each day in the month. There will be

64 CASH PRIZES
DIVIDED AS FOLLOWS:

For the greatest number of correct answers from one person	$100
For next largest number of correct answers from one person	50
For third largest number of correct answers from one person	20
For fourth largest number of correct answers from one person	10
For ten next largest number of correct answers, $2.00 each	20
For fifty next largest number of correct answers, $1.00 each	50
64 Cash Gifts Amount to	$250

If no one person gets all the answers correct, then the prizes go to those having the largest number of correct answers.

OBSERVE THESE RULES:

FIRST—Read these instructions carefully.

SECOND—Cut out the coupon printed on Page 2 neatly, following the black border lines closely.

THIRD—Read the question asked the Woggle Bug Sunday, October 2, then write plainly on the lines of the coupon, in as few words as possible, what you think the answer was. Then add your name, street and number, or other address, town or city, and State.

FOURTH—Do the same thing with the coupons that will be printed every day until Monday, October 31. You can make the same answer on each coupon for the week, or you can make different answers, but they must be on the coupon printed in the paper each day, showing the numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, etc., and the dates. Be sure that you answer the right question on the right coupons. The question asked Sunday, October 2, cannot be answered on a coupon bearing a date Sunday, October 9.

FIFTH—When you have filled out all the coupons cut from the Courier-Journal for one week, put them carefully away—don't mail to us yet. Do the same with succeeding weeks, until you have filled out coupons for the five questions that will be asked on the five Sundays of October. Then carefully sort your coupons, placing those for each week together, according to the dates and the number printed in the upper right-hand corner. Then place them ALL in one envelope and mail to "The Woggle Bug Editor, Sunday Courier-Journal, Louisville, Ky." Put nothing in the envelope except the coupons—no letters or notes of any kind. Send ALL your coupons in one envelope so that they will reach the Courier-Journal office not later than 10 o'clock Thursday morning, November 3. Coupons received later than that hour will positively not be counted, nor will coupons mailed each day or at the end of each week be counted—coupons for the entire month must all come in one envelope at the same time.

SIXTH—Remember that the largest number of correct answers to all questions will get the prizes. If two or more persons have the same number of correct answers to the five questions, the prizes will be divided. This rule will apply to all the prizes. For October it will be possible for one person to send thirty-one answers, that number of coupons being printed.

SEVENTH—Neatness in filling out coupons, care in arranging them consecutively according to numbers, and by dates, and a careful observance of all the rules printed herewith, will count for or against the contestant. For instance, if two persons send the same number of correct answers, and one follows all the rules laid down carefully, while the other does not, the prize will go to the first one. A committee will decide these points.

EIGHTH—Contestants must be regular subscribers to or readers of the Courier-Journal, and coupons must be cut from papers that have been bought and paid for, either through carriers, agents, newsboys or by mail. Employes of the Courier-Journal will not be permitted to compete.

NINTH—Correct answers for the month of October will be published the first Sunday in November, and the prizes will be awarded immediately thereafter. Names of prize winners will be published. The correct answers will be telegraphed the Courier-Journal the day before publication by Mr. L. Frank Baum, the author, so that no one connected with the Courier-Journal can know the answers until the contest for the month is closed.

The Guessing Coupon

will be found at the top of the fourth and fifth columns, page 2, of this paper. Cut it out and fill it up carefully. It may help you to get a portion of $250.

The attendance was about 8,000 and in the throng were nearly all the prominent horsemen of the country, such patrons of racing from a distance as L. V. Harkness, Monroe Salisbury, E. E. Smathers, W. H. D. Stokes, Senator Joseph W. Bailey, Maj. P. P. Johnston, president of the National Trotting Association; Dr. J. C. McCoy, William Simpson and William Gerst being prominent. An auction pool stand and two books for heat speculation accommodated the betting public, and while no big pools were sold the strong boxes were loaded down with money. The officials during the day were:

Judges—R. C. Estill, president of the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' Association; J. C. Linneman, Lima, O.; William Russell Allen, Pittsfield, Mass.

Timers—H. B. Gentry, Bloomington, Ind.; A. G. Leonard, editor of the Kentucky Stock Farm; Percy Talbert, Washington, D. C.

Starting Judge—Frank Walker.

Secretary—Horace W. Wilson.

Grace Bond broke at least two world's records to-day in the Cassie Kentucky Futurity, and is disputing the title for a third world's record. She gave two of the heats of the race to Alta Axworthy, the prime favorite, but made her own three heats in 2:09¾, or better, thus establishing a world's record for three-year-old trotters. Two of the heats she trotted in 2:09¾, establishing a world's three-year-old record for two heats. When she made the first heat in 2:09¾ Starter Walker announced that she had broken a world's record. Fantasy at Nashville in 1893, trotted a mile as a three-year-old in 2:09¾ in the second heat of a race, but under unusual conditions. In order to allow her to make a record the distance had been waived and a pacemaker picked her up at the half mile and she went under the wire while the bunch was turning the stretch.

Grace Bond had the third heat of the race won until she broke at the distance pole and finished fourth. Alta Axworthy never lost her place as favorite, the pooling for the fifth heat being Alta Axworthy $100; field $40.

The race was worth $10,000 to the winner; $2,000 to second and $1,000 to third. The first money being divided among the nominators of dams. The grievous record for the event was 2:10¾, made by Fereno in 1900. Grace Bond won the two-year-old division of the Futurity last year in 2:17¾. She is owned by J. Y. Gatcomb.

Before the first heat of the Tennessee 2:08 pace, the opening race, which had five starters, Angus Pointer was an odds-on 2 to 1 favorite, selling for $100 to $50 for the entire field. The favorite, however, made a fatal break on the first turn, and the heat was between John M. and Morning Star, the Smathers gelding winning all four by a length. The time of the heat was 2:04¾, reducing the best previous time in this stake—2:05—held jointly by Dan Patch and Twinkle, a half second. The fractional time of the heat was: First quarter, :31½; half, 1:02, and three-quarters, 1:33¾.

The talent still held their allegiance to the Geers gelding after the first heat, though the field brought $100 every time $100 was bid for Angus Pointer. The latter acted much better this heat, but John M. always had the foot of the son of Sidney Pointer, and won the heat cleverly by a length and a half in a quarter of a second faster time than the first heat, again reducing the Tennessee race record. The fractional time was: First quarter, :31¾; half in 1:02; three-quarters in 1:32½ and mile in 2:04¾.

The betting now shifted to $100 for John M. and $20 for the field, with Angus Pointer in the bunch. John M. had easy sailing in the last heat, winning in 2:06 flat, with Morning Star coming up in the stretch, as in the preceding heat, and beating out Angus Pointer for second place. The fractional time: First quarter, :31¼; half, 1:02¾, and three-quarters in 1:34¾. The winner is a very speedy pacer, and had a record of sixteen straight wins in 1903. Smathers buying him late last fall for $10,000.

The field of seven starters in the rich $14,000 three-year-old Kentucky Futurity was unchanged, all those marked to sport colors going to the post. Alta Axworthy, the recent winner of the Hartford and Horse Review futurities, ruled favorite before the first heat at $100 to $60 for the entire field, which was dispatched by Starter Walker after scoring several times. Ed. Benyon took Jessie Benyon right to the front, and she stepped down to the quarter pole, two lengths in the lead, in :32¾, closely attended by Totara, Alta Axworthy and Grace Bond, in turn. At the half Jessie Benyon was still in front, but Totara had decreased her lead to a length, that point being passed in 1:04. At that point Grace Bond soon disposed of Totara, and, shaking off the favorite, went out after Jessie Benyon, which daughter of Moho reached the three-quarters a half a length in front of Grace Bond in 1:35¾. Once in the stretch, Grace Bond soon had the leader in trouble, and, although Alta Axworthy made a bold bit above the eighth pole, she hung at the end, and Grace Bond won the first heat with a trifle in hand by a length and a half, Alta Axworthy beating Totara out three lengths for second place, while Princess Ethel pulled up fourth, several lengths back of the latter, the rest of the field being long strung out, with Alice Edgar the actual last. In the best Fereno's mark of 2:10¾ in this race in 1900 was reduced to 2:09¾, the fastest mark to the credit of any three-year-old filly save Fantasy, which noted mare holds the world's record at this age—2:08¾.

The second heat saw Alta Axworthy still the favorite at $100 to $80 for the field, but again Grace Bond had the foot of the chestnut filly, and, leading throughout, won the heat by a half a length again in 2:09¾, the fastest two heats ever trotted by a three-year-old in a race. Totara was again third, several lengths back of Alta Axworthy, while this heat Lord Revelstoke was fourth. The fractional time was: First quarter :32¾, half in 1:04¾, three-quarters in 1:36¾.

The betting now shifted to $100 for Grace Bond to $146 for the whole field. Grace Bond tried hard to make it three straight, but Alta Axworthy was always in her wake, and the daughter of The Bondsman going to a break at the eighth pole the winner of two previous Futurities had an easy time of it, and won the heat handily from Alice Edgar, while Jessie Benyon was finished in front of Grace Bond. Time, 1:11¾, of which the fractional time was first quarter :33, half 1:05 and three-quarters in 1:37¾.

This heat resulted in Alta Axworthy resuming her old place in favoritism by selling before the fourth heat for $100 to $34 for the field. She had little trouble in winning this heat, with Alice Edgar in second place, Geers having been substituted in the sulky for the Alta in this heat. Andrews gave Grace Bond a breathing spell this heat and she was fifth, both Lord Revelstoke and Jessie Benyon beating her out. The time was: First quarter :32¾, half 1:05½, three-quarters in 1:39 and mile in 2:13.

For the fifth heat Alta Axworthy sold for $100 to $40 for the field. This heat was the biggest surprise of the race, as Grace Bond had the foot of the Alta in this heat, and Bertha Bennet, 5 each; Susie N., Elmford and Rosa Bell, in the field, for 10. The polling on the other races follows:

2:07 trot: Ozanum, 100; Tillie Saal, 50; Don N., Miss Georgia, Peruna, Byrl Wilkes, 10 each.

2:14 pace: Nancy H., 100; Edgar Boy, 90; Delpha, 50; Edwin C., 20; Funston, 10; Mary Lee, Raverna Wilkes, Roland Reed, Austin Burns and Vice Regal, in the field, 12.

KENTUCKY FAIR DATES.

Owensboro, October 4, five days.

Gatcomb, who drove her at Oakley, wisely making the change. She is now the only performer that ever won both the two and three-year-old Kentucky Futurities and the Lexington Stakes, Fereno won both the Futurities, but not the Lexington Stake.

King Direct, the favorite, won the 2:09 pace in the second and third heats, barely missing the distance pole in the first heat.

The closing race was easy for the favorite, Tom Axworthy, which performer for a green horse trotted two remarkably fast heats. Wild Wilton was first declared distanced for runing by the judges, but later allowed to start in the second heat of this race. In going around the turn at the quarter pole Wild Wilton collided with Diadem, and both horses and drivers were thrown. Geers, the driver of Diadem, escaped injury, but Wild Wilton's driver, Frank Cares, of Detroit, Mich., was bruised, but not seriously hurt. Neither of the horses was injured.

The Tennis Championship.

Philadelphia, Oct. 4.—The second day's play in the intercollegiate championship lawn tennis tournament, on the courts of the Merion Cricket Club, Haverford, resulted in bringing the singles to the semi-final round and in the completion of all but two matches in the first round of the doubles.

The best match in the singles was between Robert Leroy, of Columbia, and H. H. Whitman, of Harvard. Three sets were necessary for a decision, every game being hotly contested. Leroy made many brilliant plays, but Whitman was a trifle the steadier. Leroy, however, won the deciding set. Another interesting match was that between R. Dewhurst, of the University of Pennsylvania, the present intercollegiate champion, and E. Sunstein, of Princeton. Dewhurst won the first set 6—2, but fell off in his play in the second. Sunstein was unable to score a game in one point of the set, but was unable to pull it out. Dewhurst finally winning, 11—9. B. S. Prentice, of Harvard, defeated A. J. Rendall, of Princeton, in straight sets, and J. J. B. Larned, of Harvard, disposed of M. L. Thompson, of Princeton. The semi-finals will be played to-morrow, Dewhurst meeting Prentice and Leroy playing Larned.

In the doubles five matches were played, and the contests were in most cases very even. Rendall and Richardson, of Princeton, won both their matches, defeating Spaulding and Stetson, of Yale, and Leroy and Bulkley, of Columbia.

Not the Mexican Boll Weevil.

Covington, Ga., Oct. 4.—The bugs which made their appearance in the cotton fields of Newton county are not the Mexican boll weevil, says State Entomologist William Newel. Some specimens of them were submitted to him to-day. He states that they belong to the same genus of the boll weevil, but are distinct from the boll weevil in a number of characteristics. There is no record, he says, of the bug being injurious to cotton.

BIG TEAMS ARE TO PLAY TO-DAY

Yale Eleven To Line Up Against Holy Cross Warriors.

HARVARD AGAINST BOWDOIN.

Michigan Is Expected To Roll Up a Big Score Against Northern Ohio.

OTHER CHAT OF THE GRIDIRON.

WEST.

Michigan vs. Ohio Northern at Ann Arbor.
Minnesota vs. St. Thomas on Northrup Field.
Lake Forest vs. North Division at Lake Forest.
Ohio vs. Muskingum at Columbus.
Nebraska vs. Alumni at Lincoln.
Washington vs. Rose Polytechnic at Stadium.

EAST.

Harvard vs. Bowdoin at Cambridge.
Princeton vs. Wesleyan at Princeton.
Yale vs. Holy Cross at New Haven.
Pennsylvania vs. F. and M. at Philadelphia.
Columbia vs. Tufts at New York.
Cornell vs. Hobart at Ithaca.
Carlisle vs. Susquehanna at Carlisle.
Amherst vs. New York at Amherst.
Williams vs. Massachusetts Aggies at Williamstown.
Lafayette vs. Mercersberg at Easton.

BUT one game of any importance in any part of the country is scheduled for to-day, and that game is between Yale and Holy Cross. The contest is not of interest other than that Holy Cross scored two goals from the field last season, when Curran dropped two, one from the thirty-five-yard line and the other from the forty-yard line. This season Curran is not with Holy Cross, and it is doubtful if the Worcester aggregation has as fast a team as it did last year. Yale is in excellent condition from a football standpoint, and should score at least five touchdowns, if not more.

Michigan will make its second appearance when it plays Northern Ohio, and another big score will go to the credit of the Wolverines.

The best of the Western games is that scheduled between North Division and Lake Forest. The Chicago boys have played crack-a-jack football so far this season, surpassing the work of last season's champions. They held Purdue to 5 points and Chicago to 18. This latter game, Chicago, certainly puts North Division High School among the secondary colleges of the West.

In the East, outside of the Yale-Holy Cross game, Harvard will play Bowdoin, and an easy victory is looked for, in view of the Crimson's good game Saturday. Columbia meets Tufts, which held West Point to 12 points last Saturday, and Pennsylvania has an off day with a game with Franklin and Marshall.

Vanderbilt's great showing in the game with Mississippi last Saturday sends the Commodores' stock away above par. McQuigan certainly has the Vanderbilt men in good shape to run up such a score against Mississippi in but thirty-five minutes of actual playing. A bunch of good men showed to advantage in the game, including Claiborne, Craig and Bryan. Blake also plays a star game at end.

Probably the biggest surprise in the football world in the West or South was that which occurred at Murfreesboro, Tenn., when Bowen School, of Nashville, Tenn., defeated Mooney by a score of 4 to 0. For fourteen years a prep school has never defeated Mooney, and but twice has the Tennessee school been scored on at home, once by Manual, of Louisville, when Cantrell ran 105 yards for a touchdown in 1902, and Saturday, when Blake successfully tried a place kick from Mooney's thirty-five-yard line. Mooney has always had a big, husky team, and the victory so early in the season stamps the Nashville school as the probable champions of the Southern Interscholastic Association.

FRENCH-SPANISH TREATY RELATIVE TO MOROCCO.

French Foreign Office Expects Signatures Shortly—Essential Principles Agreed Upon.

Paris, Oct. 4.—The foreign office expects the signing of the treaty between France and Spain relative to Morocco within a few days. The essential principles are determined upon, only details remaining to be adjusted. The agreement will supplement the Anglo-French treaty whereby France secured paramount authority in Morocco, thus giving Spain's adhesion to the development by the French of the North African Empire.

It is understood that Spain retains certain of her territorial and commercial rights in Northern Morocco

TRUANT COUPLE TAKEN BACK TO CHICAGO.

Claude Chappelle Handcuffed—His Partner Says He Is Innocent.

Ida McMullen and Claude Chappelle, who eloped from Chicago to this city, and resided here for a month without the formality of being married, returned last night to Chicago. The young woman occupied a seat with her father, J. J. McMullen, who came to Louisville yesterday morning. Chappelle made the return trip in a seat with Detective Condmore, of the Chicago police force, and between Chappelle's right hand and Condmore's left dangled the stern unrelenting clutch of the law—the links of a pair of handcuffs.

Mr. McMullen, after being vouched for by the Chicago officer, was allowed to take his daughter from the jail at noon yesterday, and the two ate dinner at a hotel. She was again returned to the matron's room where she remained until train time.

She still insists that she alone is guilty, and if she can have her way nothing but love and affection will be meted out to Chappelle. But the father says that Chappelle is to be prosecuted, if not for grand larceny, for wife desertion. Chappelle is in no way discomfited and evidently believes that the influence which has been his for so many months will not desert him in his hour of need.

Location For Concentrator.

Elmer Price, of Montreal, was in Louisville yesterday in consultation with Prof. J. F. Elson, of New Albany, with reference to the location of a lead and zinc concentrator in this city. The concern in which Mr. Price is the principal factor has options on lead and zinc mines on the Kentucky river, and Louisville is the place selected for the establishment of the concentrator, which will turn to account a low grade of ore. The concern is seeking a site, and if one can be secured, the industry will be established here. The total outlay, including the value of the mines, will be about $150,000.

RIVER, BUSINESS AND WEATHER.

The river was on a stand last evening, with 2 feet 3 inches in the canal, 1 inch on the falls and 3 feet at the foot of the locks. Business good. Weather clear and cloudy.

DRIFTWOOD.

The low water season will soon be over.... There will be lively times on the river before many days....The pilots and captains are coming along slowly....Even the light draught packets have trouble in making the bank landings on account of the low stage of the river....Capt. J. T. Duffy has returned from a visit to the St. Louis Fair....There is only thirteen inches water outside wharf log at the wharf from Second to Third street.... Capt. Max Rebold left for Pittsburg on business yesterday....The low stage of the river, causing many of the boats to go to the banks, gives the negro roustabouts and deckhands plenty of time to enjoy a rest....Commodore Laidley has returned from his fishing trip. He met short on bait....A number of Pittsburg pilots are due about the middle of the week. They are on their annual inspection trip aboard the Little Joe, one of the lightest boats in the Pittsburg harbor. The trip will extend as far as this city....The recent rise at Pittsburg will not affect the river here to any extent.... Until the matter of insurance is adjusted on the steamer Mayflower, which burned early Monday morning at the Monongahela wharf, Capt. John Klein will be unable to make any announcement as to his future plans. It is certain, however, that there will be another boat in the trade next season. An unofficial examination by experienced wreckers determined that the hull is comparatively uninjured and can be raised, and the vessel rebuilt. The machinery was not severely damaged, but new boilers will probably be needed....The Queen City will return to the Pittsburg and Cincinnati trade from Memphis soon as there is a good rise in the river....The Bedford is going in the Madison and Cincinnati trade....A meeting of the Board of Trade and Merchants' League was held in Cairo Monday to hear Col. J. L. Vance, of Columbus, O., president of the Ohio Valley Improvement Association, outline the plan of the system of dams which Congress will be asked to adopt for the Ohio river in order to secure a navigable stage of the river for the entire year. Col. Vance states that a complete survey of the Ohio river has never been made. Engineers are now at work, and have reached the Big Miami. The speaker finished by urging a large attendance at the next meeting of the association to be held at Huntington, W. Va., November 16 and 17....The Little Joe, with the Pittsburg captains and pilots, passed Pt. Pleasant on her way here Monday....J. L. Love, watchman on the City of St. Joseph, is missing. It is supposed he fell overboard and was drowned. ....The Mayflower was built at St. Louis in 1887 for a Pittsburg firm. She was 928 gross tons, 187 feet long by 44 feet wide. The boat was used at Memphis once towing cotton barges. Capt. Klein bought her back for $500 more than he sold her for. ....Capt. Will Duffy, of Higginsport, is here visiting his brother, Capt. J. T. Duffy....Many years ago Grassy Flats was the worst place in low water between here and Pittsburg. It was no uncommon thing for more than half a dozen to be stuck there at once. Now a boat seldom sticks there, no matter how little water there is in the river....The Vicksburg Post of Saturday says: "Capt. Sam Griffin, agent of the underwriters, met with quite a serious accident while superintending the work of raising the sunken steamer Vernie Mack. He fell from the hurricane roof to the lower deck, striking his head on the guard rail of the hatchway. He landed in the river and went under the water, but was caught when he rose. It was thought for a while that he had sustained a very serious injury. He regained consciousness in about two hours. He came down on the Vernie Mack yesterday evening, and is still suffering from the terrible fall. His escape from drowning and his recovery from the terrible fall are almost miracles."

OLD RIFLE

Is Discharged, Causing a Little Child's Death.

ACCIDENT IN CLARK COUNTY.

FLOYD GRAND JURY ASSIGNS MANY CASES.

MANY OTHERS DISMISSED.

George Morgan, of Jeffersonville, last night received a telephone message announcing the accidental killing of his granddaughter at Blue Lick, Clark county, Ind., yesterday afternoon. The child, who was twenty months old and a daughter of Pearl Morgan, formerly of Jeffersonville, had gone to a smokehouse, and, while playing there in some manner, got hold of an old rifle that had been in the building for some time. The weapon was discharged and the ball from it crashed through the little one's forehead squarely between the eyes, death being instantaneous. The report of the rifle was heard by members of the family, but no immediate attention was paid to it. Some time later the little girl was missed and when searched for, the body was found in the smokehouse. The father is a ball player and at present is driving a huckster wagon between Louisville and Blue Lick. He was formerly in business in Jeffersonville.

PERMIT FOR NEW VIADUCT

For Traction Company Embodied In Ordinance.

At the regular meeting of the Jeffersonville City Council last night Mayor Burtt suggested that the rules governing the transaction of the business of the Council be so changed that new measures be taken up first and deferred business and bills later. The suggestion was concurred in. An ordinance granting a franchise to the Louisville and Southern Indiana Traction Company for the period of fifty years to construct an approach to the Big Four bridge on the west side of the present viaduct, over private ground along Mulberry street, was read, work to be begun within sixty days and completed in one year. It was referred to the Mayor, City Attorney and Committee on Streets and Alleys.

An ordinance providing for the placing of a flagman at Eakin avenue and Locust street, where the tracks of the Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railway Company are crossed, to be paid by the railroad, was adopted by a vote of ten ayes to one no, Mr. Ford being the only member to vote in the negative. Mr. Ford wanted an explanation as to how the ordinance went through without any chance for debate. The chair agreed to hear any objection, and Mr. Ford then wanted to refer, but was not sustained.

The street pay roll of $391.98 was then taken up and ordered paid, which was followed by a large number of other bills. An unapproved bill of Fred Ruehl for $5.83, for services as janitor of the City Hall for five days in September, caused a debate over the fact that the Mayor insisted he should not be paid for the last day of the five, at which time a warrant was made, over the protest of the Mayor the bill was unanimously ordered paid. A bill of Henry Knobloch of $175 on account of sequestered taxes amounting to $100 being placed on the duplicate, was referred.

The Board of Metropolitan Police Commissioners asked that an ordinance be passed against the herding of cattle in the city. The communication was referred with a view of bringing in an ordinance covering the request. George Nanno and William C. Antz were granted liquor licenses. Applications for liquor licenses were received from Charles W. Dean, A. J. Nance and William Nance. Mr. Ford, as chairman of the Committee on Police and Jail, moved that all of the ironwork in the old jail be sold to the highest bidder. Mr. Dugan amended by moving the jail be torn down entirely, which was lost for want of a second, and Mr. Ford's motion was lost, he being the only member voting for it.

CASES SET FOR TRIAL.

Floyd County Grand Jury Begins Its Labors.

At the session of the Floyd Circuit Court in New Albany yesterday, the grand jury was charged by Judge Utz and sent to its room to consider various questions, Dimick Winn having been selected to act as foreman. The civil docket was called and the following cases dismissed, satisfactory settlements having been made: William T. Printz against the Jeffersonville, Sellersburg, New Albany Rapid Transit Company; George Hill against the P., C., C. and St. L.; George R. Martin against the New Albany Waterworks; Martin Oeffenger vs. New Albany Woolen Mill Company; C. W. Schindler, trustee of the first mortgage bondholders vs. the Highland Railway Company vs. Highland Railway Company.

Cases were set for trial as follows: Alice E. vs. Benj. S. Jolissaint, Jr., and Maggie vs. Charles R. Sitz, suit for divorce, Saturday, September 8; Mrs. Hattie M. Hewitt vs. New Albany Street Railway Company suit for damages, November 14; Thomas Neal vs. Southern Railway Company damages, November 15; George Wright vs. Louisville and Southern Indiana Traction Company and Millie Wright vs. same defendant, November 18; Joanna Treuter vs. United Gas and Electric Company, November 21; John Asharanner and others vs. County Commissioners, appeal on road petition, November 22; Charles Sears, administrator vs. Southern Railway Company and others, damage suit, November 23; Ulysses G. Stephens vs. American Car and Foundry Company, damages, November 25; Thomas Mattingly vs. Wood-Mosaic Flooring Company, suit to recover damages, November 26; Jeffersonville, Sellersburg and New Albany Rapid Transit Company vs. Martha A. Boyer, condemnation of property for railway right of way, November 28; same plaintiffs vs. Walter E. McCulloch, condemnation proceedings, November 29.

NEW ALBANY.

—The sewing women of the city who have been employed at the Government Depot will receive their pay for work done in September next Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

—Louis Zipp and Miss Mary Sudduth, of the Silver Grove suburb, are to be married this morning at 9 o'clock in St. Mary's Catholic church. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Father Borreis, the associate rector.

—George McDaniel and Miss Irene Albin were married July 21 at Centenary parsonage by the Rev. W. G. Clinton. The marriage was kept a secret until yesterday, when the names were put on the records in the County Clerk's office.

—Joseph Schuman, of Lafayette township, and Miss Rosa Plattner, of Louisville, were married yesterday morning at St. Mary's-of-the-Knobs Catholic church, near Mooresville, five miles north of the city, by the rector, the Rev. J. P. Hildebrand.

—A telegram was received by Louis Volpert, 604 East Fourth sfreet, notifying him of the death of his brother, Fred Volpert, in a railroad wreck at Dickinson, N. A. Sunday night. The body will be sent here, and will be forwarded to the home of his father, Frank Volpert, in Dubois county.

—Newland T. DePauw has sold the Newland property, on East Main street, between Twelfth and Thirteenth, to W. A. McLean, general manager of the Wood-Mosaic Flooring Company, the price paid being $6,000. Extensive improvements, including hardwood floors, will be made to the house before Mr. McLean's family will occupy it.

—Richard Sprain, a conductor on the Monon, and his two children fell into a vault at the rear of their home, East Eleventh street and Ekin avenue, the floor having given away. Mrs. Sprain was standing in the doorway, and sprang back as the floor fell. She was able to assist in extricating her husband and the children from their dangerous position.

—J. C. Short submitted to a second amputation of his left leg below the knee at St. Edward's City Hospital yesterday. The operation was performed by Dr. C. P. Cook. Mr. Short was a brakeman in the service of the P., C., C. and St. L. railroad, and had his ankle so badly mangled in a railroad accident at Tipton, Ind., about a year ago, that the first amputation was necessary. He has pending in the Floyd Circuit Court a suit against the Lake Erie and Western and the P., C., C. and St. L. to recover $30,000 damages.

—Capt. Thomas Hanlon, chairman of the Democratic District Central Committee, returned yesterday from Perry county, where he had been to confer with the Democratic Central Committee of that county on political matters. He found Perry county in fine shape, with a thorough organization and with a certainty of increasing the Democratic majority next month. Capt. Hanlon will be the host at a dinner to be given to-day at Erb's Hotel, on State street, to Chairman Levi H. Scott and the officers and members of the Floyd County Democratic Central Committee. He will leave to-morrow for Scott county to hold a conference with the Democratic Committee of that county.

VANDALIA

Will Soon Be Out of the Receiver's Hands.

PROPERTY IS IN GOOD SHAPE.

WILL BE MERGED INTO THE PENNSYLVANIA SYSTEM.

NO CHANGES IN PERSONNEL.

Indianapolis, Oct. 4.—A report that the receivership of the Terre Haute and Indianapolis Railroad Company, the Vandalia line, is to be soon terminated, was this afternoon practically confirmed by the receiver, Volney T. Malott, of Indianapolis.

"It is probable," said Mr. Malott, "that on October 30 the receivership of the Terre Haute and Indianapolis Railroad Company will be terminated, most of the litigation having been settled, and the company being now in good financial condition."

Mr. Malott stated that at the close of the receivership the property will remain in his hands, to operate for the owners, and he also said there will be no changes in the organization or in the personnel of the official staff. The only change will be that instead of operating the company for the United States Court he will operate it for the company.

The receivership was instituted November 12, 1896. The termination of the receivership for the Vandalia line in Indiana probably is the preliminary step in the complete merging of that line into the Pennsylvania system.

WITH A "JOINT POLICY."

The Alton To Be Operated By Harriman and Moore Interests.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—At the annual meeting of the Chicago and Alton Railroad Company here J. H. Moore, D. G. Reid and Robert Mather were elected directors in place of F. F. Winston, C. H. Chapelle and Mortimer L. Skiff.

It was announced by Judge W. H. Moore that for "at least a year" the property will be operated on a joint basis, with both the Harriman and Moore interests agreed on a joint policy.

Owing to legal provisions for a classified board of directors, only three terms expiring this year, it was impossible for the Moore to secure a majority of the board at this meeting without resignations of additional members.

Scramble To Pay Taxes.

New York, Oct. 4.—All records for the amount of taxes paid to the city in one day have just been surpassed. Those who went to the Tax Receiver's office in person were so eager that officials appealed to the police to hold them and their money in line. The city treasury was nearly fifteen million dollars more wealthy when office hours were over than it had been in the morning. It is thought that, including the piles of checks and currency which there was not time to enter, the total receipts were not far from twenty millions.

Stoneworkers On Strike.

New York, Oct. 4.—The Journeymen Stone Cutters' Union has declared a strike in all the stone yards in Brooklyn. They have been on a strike for several days in nearly all of the stone yards of Manhattan and Jersey City, and the extension of their strike to Brooklyn will tie up the entire trade, and may in a short time throw large numbers of bricklayers and other mechanics idle in Manhattan. The union is a part of the Building Trades Alliance.

COTTON MARKETS.

New York, Oct. 4.—The cotton market, after a weak morning, had a very sharp reaction in the afternoon, but lost part of the recovery before the close. The opening was easy at a decline of 5@10 points, which was rather better than expected in view of the lower Liverpool cables, excellent weather in the South and the prospect for large receipts. At first there was considerable buying and quite a lot of covering, but after hanging around the opening price for a little while the absence of bull speculation and the unsettling influence of the big crop estimates growing out of yesterday's bureau report began to effect prices, and before midday December had sold off to 9.75c and the general list to a net decline of 15@17 points. Shortly after the publication of the weekly crop bulletin, which was hardly thought to read like a crop of the size suggested by the monthly report of the previous day there was a sharp rally. The story on the floor was that a leading New Orleans operator who has been in this city for some months now studying the situation had been short before the bank holiday, had covered and was swinging to the long in the expressed bullish sentiment on cotton at or below 10c. This buying seemed to take room shorts by surprise, and there was active covering and inside of half an hour had forced a rally of over 25 points on the active months. Following this leading bears felt the market by offering quite large blocks and managed to get the last down to about or a little under Friday night's finale. In the late trading the undertone of the market was pretty steady, and it looked as though Wall street's last winter's bull leader, the South and Philadelphia were buying moderately, while sales came chiefly from scattering longs and some professional bears which considered the rallying in the light of a temporary reaction. The market closed steady at a net gain of 2@5 points. Sales were estimated at 500,000 bales.

Estimated receipts at the ports to-day 100,000 bales, against 95,322 the last week and 77,922 last year; for the week 460,000 bales, against 438,-317 last week and 305,416 last year; to-day's receipts at New Orleans 11,881 bales, against 10,-473 last year, and at Houston 33,337, against 22,273 last year.

Spot cotton quiet; middling uplands 10.15c; do gulf 10.40c. Closed quiet; middling uplands 10.30c; do gulf 10.55c; sales 400 bales.

The following is the range of futures on the New York Cotton Exchange:

New Orleans, Oct. 4.—The spot market for cotton opened easy but closed steady. Sales were 4,100 bales, including 1,700 to arrive and 100 f. o. b. Prices 1-16c lower; ordinary 7 3-16c; good ordinary 8¼c; low middling 9¼c; middling 9 11-16c; good middling 9¾c; middling fair 10⅛c; receipts 18,386 bales; stock 76,625. Futures opened easy at a decline of 5@9 points, caused by unfavorable Liverpool. The market was sensitive, bulls having freely predicted a reaction from the continued declines of late, but until near the close of the session prices were kept well below yesterday's closing level. The Government bureau reports, which were read at 11 o'clock, were bearish as to favorable conditions for picking, but were bullish in so far as they told of the bulk of the crop having been gathered in many portions. The reports also reflected former assertions that there would be no top crop. Much was made of the fact that pickers were scarce, while much cotton was open in all sections of the belt. November opened 6 points lower at 9.61c, sold down to 9.56c and finally advanced to 9.77c. The market closed firm at the best prices of the day, with net gains of 9 points on October and 10 on all other positions.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

MONETARY.

Tuesday Evening, Oct. 4.—Mails were light to-day and counter business was only fairly active, but there was enough routine work to keep bank clerks and officials well occupied. There was no new feature in the situation, however. The money supply is comfortable, his demand only fair and rates remain unchanged at 5 and 6 per cent.

New York exchange is quoted at 25c discount.

The report of the Clearing-house to-day was as follows:

Day's clearing	$1,696,884

Bond sales in the local market amounted to the par value of $57,000. Rochester Railway and Light 5s were strong, and Union Pacific convertibles were sold on the advance in price. Detroit United Railways stock sold at 72 and 72¼ in this market and touched 72½ in New York. Toledo was a little easier at 23½ asked.

A small lot of Bourbon Stock Yards stock brought 72¾. St. Louis securities were unchanged, barring the fact that United Railways preferred stock sold a little higher to-day.

*And interest.

A large delegation of Louisville and Kentucky bankers leave this city to-night for St. Louis to attend the sessions of the Kentucky Bankers' Association, which will be held in the Kentucky Building on the World's Fair Grounds. An interesting programme has been arranged.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Bourbon Stock Yards Company was held to-day at the Citizens' National Bank. More than 70 per cent. of the stock was voted at the meeting. Officers and directors were re-elected. H. F. Embry was added to the board. The earnings for the year, it is stated, show a little over 7 per cent. on the stock. Business has proved satisfactory, notwithstanding the difficulties resulting from the fire which destroyed the yards. They were promptly rebuilt and sales were not suspended for a single day. The report of the president was encouraging.

Gen. C. M. Spitzer, who is said to be one of Toledo's most influential and philanthropic citizens, presided the other night at a meeting of 750 Republican workers, at which Mayor Robert H. Finch and all the greater and lesser lights of the party in Toledo were present. Gen. Spitzer sounded the keynote of the party in the municipal campaign, which was the street railway franchise matter, application for an extension of the present franchises for a period of twenty-five years having been made by the Toledo Railways and Light Company. As the Republican party has controlled Toledo politics for some years the announcement by Gen. Spitzer is taken as having considerable significance. It would seem to prove also that the granting of a franchise on the basis of six tickets for a quarter is not nearly so distasteful to the people as one or two newspapers in that city would make it appear.

In opening his address Gen. Spitzer is quoted as saying that he thought all the officers were attending to their duties and did not believe that any corruption or evil doing could be found. He believed in organization, was interested in electric railroads and knew that it costs 3.21c to carry each passenger. He said:

"We must remember that the company did not put on this expense itself," said he. "It bought the lines in good faith and cannot be expected to allow itself to accept a franchise that would mean bankruptcy.

"How is this city to grow and progress without a fine street car system?

"I say this company should have six tickets for a quarter and universal transfers. They will not accept bankruptcy. We are injuring the city by refusing the franchise. The bond buyers of the country have their eyes on Toledo.

"Do not be mislead by agitation over the franchise question. Don't think that this street car business cuts any figure in the campaign. There are bigger things to be considered than that, and we must have a good street car system if we are to accommodate the thousands of visitors who come annually to the city on the steam and electric roads.

"I do hope the Council will give the company a decent franchise!"

In view of the general understanding in Wall street that James R. Keene has again been placed in charge of the manipulation of the United States Steel stocks, and that he is again operating aggressively on the bull side of the market, his views on the general financial outlook are interesting. Mr. Keene's position on the market, according to the New York Commercial, may be judged from a remark he made some weeks ago in discussing the financial outlook with a friend.

At that time Steel preferred was selling around 60 and the common stock was selling around 30. Mr. Keene said he believed that any one who put $100,000 into Steel common, buying the stock outright and putting it away in a strong box as an investment, would be able to sell it in the course of eighteen months for $200,000 or $250,000. Mr. Keene added that he did not at the moment own a single share of Steel common and that he spoke entirely disinterestedly.

Mr. Keene said that he granted that there was some truth in the idea that the United States Steel Corporation had been heavily overcapitalized, but he believed that the marvelous industrial growth of this country would in time correct these evils of overcapitalization. Mr. Keene at the same time said he believed that the purchaser of Steel preferred at 60 would be able to sell it at 80 or 90 if he had patience to wait a year or two.

Keene's expectations in regard to the United States Steel Corporation have been more than realized. The advance in the price of these securities since he advised their purchase has been more rapid than he had anticipated. Mr. Keene says he believes that 1905 will be a year of the most genuine prosperity in the steel and iron industry and that the common and preferred stock will then be selling at much higher prices than at present.

MARKET LETTERS.

New York.—After midday the market was rather less active but still firm, with St. Paul the spectacular feature. Arbitrage buying was a help. Keene brokers made their appearance in Southern Pacific on the bull side for the first time in a long period. Fairly heavy selling by Harriman checked the advance.—(Ex. Norton & Co. to J. J. B. Hilliard & Sons.

New York.—St. Paul, Union Pacific, Pennsylvania and other first-class dividend paying stocks have been purchased during the day with confidence by large financial people. On any recessions we still believe Union Pacific a purchase.—(Kelley, Miller & Co. to Almstedt Bros.

New York.—The heavy buying of St. Paul to-day created a market of enormous transactions in many of the active issues, and in fact the market broadened to proportions that we have not seen since the 1900-1901 period. Outside of the intrinsic value of St. Paul, which should cause it to sell many points higher in the present run of prices for high-grade issues, the fact of a peaceful settlement of difficulties between the Harriman and Hill interests is sufficient to know that the St. Paul property will be welded into the great Western railway systems, which can only give more value than ever to this security. The buying to-day undoubtedly is the beginning of a plan to clear the market of this stock. The new high records made to-day for many of the junior Southwestern and Southern and Pacific issues in heavy volume looks to us that a climax to this upward trend of prices has not only not been seen, but that greater activity will occur later on, when conditions have been favored by the election having passed, and increased dividends will be the feature to cause the public to buy again. However, it cannot be expected that the market will proceed to advance steadily without some reaction, as was witnessed, for instance, in to-day's afternoon stock market.—(Hutton & Co. to John L. Dunlap.

New York.—St. Paul assumed the lead at the start, crossing 160 and, followed by Union Pacific, which advanced to a new high level and was bought on the expectation of a rise in Northern Securities, while the Moore party were thought to be active in Rock Island. Missouri Pacific crossed par. There was good buying in Baltimore and Ohio, Wabash, the Southwestern rails and Illinois Central. Southern Pacific was bought following upturns in Union Pacific and St. Paul, but there appeared to be more or less realizing in Steel, although there was good buying of the preferred. Republic Steel preferred was up a point, with Colorado Fuel and Iron following, Tennessee Coal and Iron, however, showing neglect. Some attention was paid to Norfolk and Western and Chesapeake and Ohio as fine future prospects. Erie and Reading represented a strong front. The buying of St. Paul was continued, and it looked as if the short interest has been thoroughly eliminated, while there appeared to be purchases of an investment nature. Its advance exercised a bullish effect on the balance of the market, although Steel preferred reacted over a point. There was a rather unsettled feeling, but the market was due for a healthy reaction, considering the big advance that took place in St. Paul. Recoveries took place near the close, but there was considerable feverishness, and the advance may prove to have been extended too far.—(Ware & Leland.

New York.—The total transactions in stocks to-day exceeded 1,850,000 shares, with the dealings in St. Paul, Union Pacific and Steel preferred contributing one-third of the total. The eight-point rise in St. Paul from its closing price of 159 to 167 practically made that stock sell at 170½, with a dividend on it. The sensational rise was gradual in its development from the opening and seemed to be due more to the driving in of a long standing short interest and manipulation than to any new developments in connection with the probability of a settlement of the Northern Securities litigation, which was the chief rumor of the day on which the advance was based by the generality of operators.—(T. A. McIntyre & Co. to W. L. Lyons & Co.

New York.—Signs were abundant to-day that the general stock list is high enough for the time being. Therefore we would not advise purchases until we have had a substantial setback. This may come at any moment, or it may be more gradual. The heavy profit taking in United States Steel shares, with a decline of some 1¼ points in the preferred, showed that insiders considered those stocks about high enough. The manipulation by the Gates people, the rise in St. Paul being accompanied by the circulation of many deal reports that seemed to come from close to those interests, had the look of a last effort to mark up certain stocks so as to facilitate selling elsewhere. It came to us last Friday from an associate of the operator mentioned that St. Paul was scheduled to go up as soon as the dividend came off. The circulation of this report broadcast to-day, after the advance was half over, was calculated to induce public purchases. There were unquestionably some because of the high standing of this stock, and the willingness of many persons to buy after they have seen a five-point advance. As St. Paul once sold at 198¾, it could go higher if any real news developments are under way. From careful inquiries we are convinced that nothing is brewing at the moment. For the time being stocks may be sold to advantage on strong spots.—C. I. Hudson & Co. to John W. & D. S. Green.

New York.—In volume of transactions today was the largest of any day this year, and the market was generally very strong, with several issues, notably St. Paul, buoyant. The movement in St. Paul dominated the market and was variously attributed to an impending settlement of the Northern Securities tangle, buying for representation and the issuance of valuable rights to stockholders on a new issue of $25,000,000. These stories were freely circulated and attracted a great deal of buying by room traders, which, it was thought by some shrewd observers, drove to cover a heavy and stubborn short interest that had developed in the stock at the time Northwestern crop scares were threatening to cause a decline in the granger stocks. As the stock is scarce heavy buying of this character, together with the opportunistic tactics of bull traders, could easily have caused the advance. In some quarters there is a tendency to disapprove of these rapid advances in particular stocks, but as a matter of fact the dominant interests are not altogether responsible for them, as the exigencies of speculation by traders, as in St. Paul to-day, sometimes cause these flurries. Throughout the morning, when there was a reactionary tendency due to profit taking, stocks were well bought, which made for general bullish sentiment in the afternoon. More public interest was noticeable in the market to-day. Confidence is general, however, that prices are going higher.—(A. O. Brown & Co. to Hunt, Bridgeford & Co.

STOCK MARKET REVIEW.

New York, Oct. 4.—Money on call steady at 1¾@2 per cent.; closing bid and asked 1¾; time loans steady; 60 days 3¼ per cent.; 90 days 3½; six months 3¾@4; prime mercantile paper 4½@5. Sterling exchange heavy, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.8540@4.8545 for demand and at $4.8335@4.8340 for 60-day bills; posted rates $4.84@4.84½ and $4.86½@4.87; commercial bills $4.83@4.83¾. Bar silver 56c. Mexican dollars 46c. Government bonds easy. Railroad bonds firm.

Speculative attention reverted again to-day to the Northern Securities settlement question, and United States Steel was given over to a profit taking movement. The rather emphatic official denials that the corporation was buying its preferred stock for conversion into bonds, about the nominal cause of the buoyant rise in that stock yesterday, made it natural that some selling should result to-day. It was not a surprise to see the force of the day's rumor-mongering shifted to the Northern Securities question, as these two subjects have shown unexhausted capacity for stimulating furious price movements.

The movement centered in St. Paul to-day. That stock seemed to reach no limit in its flight. Its action was the direct outcome of the strength of the Union Pacific and of Southern Pacific on the exchange and of Northern Securities on the curb. The new phase of to-day's rumors regarding the settlement of the dispute over the distribution of the Northern Securities assets was that it involved the lodgment of control of Northern Pacific, which is the vital point in the contest in the St. Paul, but not the faintest admission from any official source of the truth of the report could be secured. It was pointed out that the legal contest to decide the question will, if necessary, be pushed to a conclusion in order to meet the fiduciary obligations of the Oregon Short Line directors to the holders of their participating bonds.

The extraordinary action of St. Paul in the market prevented entire discredence of the report. Room trading incident to the movement was on an enormous scale and involved quick turns in tens of thousands of shares.

The movement elsewhere was more moderate and was accompanied by steady profit taking, not only in United States Steel preferred, but in others which were prominent in yesterday's rise, notably Erie and Norfolk and Western. For a while during the final hour the profit taking became general and rather precipitate on the day's advance. The advance started in the Southwestern cotton carriers yesterday by the Government's cotton estimate was continued to-day, with Missouri Pacific a leader. Pennsylvania moved out of its instability of yesterday and shared in the advance, although its August statement was not considered highly satisfactory, owing to the large decrease in gross earnings which had to be overcome by the retrenchment in operating expenses. On the other hand, good August statements did not help Southern Railway, Norfolk and Western or Chicago and Alton. The weather bureau's weekly bulletin on cotton somewhat modified the effect of yesterday's Government estimate, and the forecast of freezing weather and snow in the West and Northwest was a factor in the day's markets.

The money market continued tranquil, but both the Government and the interior absorbed further large cash resources. Continental exchanges moved against London and gold was marked up another fraction there. The stock market here closed unsettled and irregular by reason of the extent of the late profit taking movement. St. Paul's net gain was 6¼, one point less than the extreme advance.

FOREIGN FINANCIAL.

London, Oct. 4.—Rates for money were easy in the market to-day. Discounts hardened on the fall in foreign exchanges and the demand for gold apparently for the next bourse settlement requirements. Trading on the Stock Exchange was buoyant and the support was more general. The features were Americans and Kaffirs. Consols were firm and home rails were in good demand, the market being oversold. Americans opened firm, made frequent fractional gains to above parity, eased during the afternoon and closed quiet. Grand Trunk was dull on the traffic decrease. Japanese and Russian securities were firm, Imperial Japanese Government 6s of 1904 were quoted at 97⅝. Closing: Consols for money 88 9-16; do for the account 88⅝; Anaconda 4⅜; Atchison 85⅝; do preferred 103¼; Baltimore and Ohio 93½; Canadian Pacific 138¾; Chesapeake and Ohio 47; Chicago Great Western 17⅜; Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul 165; De Beers 18⅜; Denver and Rio Grande 30⅜; do preferred 85; Erie 34⅛; do first preferred 71¼; do second preferred 48½; Illinois Central 144½; Louisville and Nashville 131⅜; Missouri, Kansas and Texas 26¼; New York Central 131⅛; Norfolk and Western 75; do preferred 92; Ontario and Western 36¾; Pennsylvania 68½; Rand Mines 10⅜; Reading 35⅝; do first preferred 44; do second preferred 39⅜; Southern Railway 34⅜; do preferred 97¾; Southern Pacific 59½; Union Pacific 106; do preferred 96; United States Steel 19⅞; do preferred 78¾; Wabash 21½, do preferred 43½; Spanish fours, 86¾. Bar silver steady at 26 3-16d per ounce. Money 1@1¼ per cent. The rate of discount in the open market for short bills is 2 1-16@2⅛ per cent.; do three months' bills 2⅛@2¼ per cent.

Berlin, Oct. 4.—Prices on the Boerse to-day opened firm and trading was active, but later business was restricted. A heavy demand for Paris exchange to-day was explained to be due to American purchases to avoid gold exports in connection with the unliquidated balance of the Panama canal payment. Exchange on London 20 marks 39½ pfgs. for checks. Discount rates: Short bills 4¾ per cent.; three months' bills 5¼ per cent.

Paris, Oct. 4.—Prices opened firm on the Bourse to-day, but business remained quiet and the market closed dull. Russian Imperial 4s were quoted at 93.35 and Russian bonds of 1904 at 86.5. The private rate of discount was 1¾ @1¾ per cent. Three per cent. rentes 97f 87½c for the account. Exchange on London 25f 15c for checks.

Will Be the Performance of the Persian Garden and Daisy Chain

WOMAN'S CLUB NEXT TUESDAY NIGHT.

The Pianola Accompaniments Will Be a Feature.

"If you can show me a mechanism for playing the piano that can do justice to a difficult accompaniment, I will believe that these machines have a valid claim on the recognition of musical people," said a Louisville musician recently. "I have never doubted that there are instruments of a refined and evoluted hand-organ type which can produce something similar to the two-steps and waltzes. But what is asserted is that the pianola can interpret the most difficult and complex music as well as can a fully-equipped pianist. That is an extravagant claim."

Though there are not so many genuinely musical people who now doubt that the pianola does all that is claimed for it, there remain a respectable minority. Most of them have never heard a pianola managed by a competent player. The rest are blindly prejudiced.

But to convert this minority, another production of "In a Persian Garden" and "The Daisy Chain" will be given at the Woman's Club next Tuesday evening, October 11, with four first-class singers and pianola accompaniment in charge of Mr. Alfred Wagner, the most noted demonstrator of the instrument. Last year the two works were produced by the same singers with pianola and the effect was a wholesale conversion to the instrument—a landslide for the pianola. The coming concert is planned to give those who did not attend the last performance an opportunity to hear the works with the same accessories.

The "Garden" and the "Daisy Chain" are two widely-contrasted compositions. The former abounds in changes of rhythm, in crashing successions of chords followed by runs that die away to a whisper. As the impulse of Omar's verses shifts from grave to gay, from impassioned to cynical, the accompaniment changes like a chameleon. Time and tone change with every shade of emotion. Thus the strongest possible test is prepared for the mechanism. "The Daisy Chain," while not so fully designed to search out any possible defect, is itself a difficult task.

With these two numbers on its programme, the pianola will ask for criticism. That the concert may be thoroughly artistic in every respect four first-class singers have been engaged. Mr. Alfred Shaw, the Chicago singer, will give the beautiful tenor solos which abound in both works. The others will be Mrs. Jessie Bowman Webb, Mrs. Carrie Rothschild Sapinsky and Mr. Douglas Webb. The personnel of the quartette has been left unchanged because of the perfect results attained last winter.

The production of the two delightful works is the first and most important musical event announced for the coming season, and the interest of the public has been evinced by an immediate demand for seats when they were placed on sale at Smith & Nixon's yesterday. The price of admission last year was $1.50; this year just half of that amount.

NINETIETH YEAR

IS REACHED BEFORE DEATH CLAIMS CAPT. CONN.

Was Confederate Veteran Who Refused To Take Oath of Allegiance.

Capt. John S. Conn, one of the oldest veterans of the Civil War, died yesterday morning at the home of Mrs. T. M. Swann, his niece, of the infirmities attendant upon old age. He was in his ninetieth year and unmarried.

Capt. Conn was born in Kentucky, near Lexington, bua soon after his birth his parents both died, and he went to Chillicothe, Ohio, to live with his uncle, James Webb, the father-in-law of Rutherford B. Hayes.

Capt. Conn received his legal education at Bacon College, in Harrodsburg, and commenced the practice of law at Lexington. Shortly afterward the war broke out and he entered Gen. Morgan's command, serving with distinction in the regiment of Col. Dick Gano.

Capt. Conn was taken prisoner during Morgan's great raid and confined in Camp Douglas, Illinois. He always refused parole upon the condition imposed—that of taking the oath of allegiance to the United States.

He never did take the oath, for when Lee surrendered and the prisoners at Camp Douglas were mustered to have the oath administered, Capt. Conn and several comrades who believed as he did were placed in the last squad, and through some hurry or carelessness on the part of the Federal officers they were permitted to disband and escape the, to them, unbearable ordeal.

After the war Capt. Conn resumed his law practice in Lexington, and continued it successfully until about twenty years ago, when he retired and took up his residence with his sister, Mrs. Robert Innes, of Lexington. Six years ago Mrs. Innes died, and since then Capt. Conn had lived with his niece, Mrs. Swann.

Services will be held this afternoon at the Swann home, 1215 Fourth avenue, when the body will be taken to Lexington. The burial will be to-morrow morning.

WIDOW

01 Fred Hoertz Made His Sole Legatee.

AN ESTATE WORTH $125,000.

DR. GEORGE REISS SUED BY BOY FOR ASSAULT.

TROUBLES AT A THEATER.

Fred Hoertz, by his will, which was admitted to probate in the County Court yesterday, leaves to his widow, Louisa Hoertz, an estate believed to be worth not less than $125,000. Mrs. Hoertz has the right to do what she pleases with the property during her life or as long as she remains the widow of the testator. Should she marry again she would receive under the will one-third of both real and personal property absolutely, while the three children, John Henry, Annie and Louisa Hoertz, would divide the other two-thirds. Upon Mrs. Hoertz's death the estate is to be divided equally among the testator's children. The instrument which was drawn June 1, 1892, further stipulates that any child of subsequent birth shall participate equally with the other heirs. The will was written in the handwriting of Zach Phelps, who, with J. T. O'Neal, was a witness to the signature. The widow is named executrix without bond.

Charges Assault and Battery.

Clarence Markus, fifteen years of age and an usher at the Avenue Theater, yesterday brought suit for $2,500 damages against Dr. George Reiss, of the Louisville Dental Parlors at 544 Fourth avenue, on the charge of assault and battery. Action is brought in the name of the boy's father, Herman F. Markus. Markus says in his petition that while obeying the orders of his employer by preventing outsiders from getting into the balcony through a private passageway which leads from Dr. Reiss' offices, the defendant after threatening to "take him out and whip his pants off" attacked him. According to Markus' side of the case, in spite of the fact that Dr. Reiss was a "full grown man and he was a little boy" he was by no means fearful of the encounter. He declares that when the defendant offered to "whip his pants off" he volunteered to go out with him, though he does not explain that he did so to save himself any consequent embarrassment or whether it was merely to accommodate Dr. Reiss.

Young Markus asserts that repeatedly Dr. Reiss has come into the theater through the passageway in spite of strict orders to the contrary. It appears that a safety exit has been arranged for the theater balcony through Dr. Reiss' rooms. On September 28, the petition says, a girl during the progress of the performance came into the balcony through the passageway. She told plaintiff that Dr. Reiss told her she could do so. Markus told her to leave and she did so. Soon Dr. Reiss appeared on the scene and, Markus says, beckoned him back into the passageway, where the alleged threats were uttered. Markus claims Dr. Reiss then grabbed him by the arm and swung him violently around against the walls and ceiling of the passageway, inflicting several bruises.

Mrs. Annie Priest's Will.

The will of Mrs. Annie Priest, dated June 23, 1890, and probated yesterday, leaves the major portion of her estate, which consists of a house and lot at 248 East Main street, to her grandson, Albert Priest Dietzman. She gives away several sets of furniture and personal effects to other relatives. Albert Dietzman, son-in-law of the testatrix, is made executor without bond.

—Ada Littrell, colored, was given thirty days in jail on the charge of grand larceny.

—John Brown, colored, charged with attempted criminal assault upon a twelve-year-old negro girl, was found not guilty.

—Appraisers of the estate of W. A. Ferry reported to the County Court yesterday the total value of his property at $5,560.

—The grand jury was unable to transact busiiness yesterday because the police were not able to appear as witnesses in a number of cases on account of special registration duty.

—A writ of habeas corpus was denied William Snyder, who claims that the $2,000 bond upon which he was held over is excessive. He is charged with shooting at without wounding Joe Kerwin and resisting arrest.

—Morris Hymson, five years of age, brought suit by his father, J. W. Hym-for alleged assault. It is charged the defendant beat the child about the body and face, causing internal injury.

Court of Appeals Decisions.

Stith vs. Commonwealth.—Filed September 28, 1904. (Not to be reported.) Appeal from Hardin Circuit Court. Opinion by Judge Nunn, reversing.

Criminal Law—Evidence.—Upon the trial of appellant upon an indictment charging him with feloniously administering poison to another, it was improper for the Commonwealth's Attorney to ask a witness for the prosecution, if it was not current talk that Stith, the appellant, had not poisoned his father and mother, and it was error in the trial court to admit this question over defendant's objection, or to fail to exclude the witness' answer on defendant's motion.

N. B. Hays, J. R. Layman, L. Mix, L. A. Faurest for appellant; H. L. James, J. D. Irwin for appellee.

Siler, etc., vs. Archer's Guardian.—Filed September 28, 1904. (Not to be reported.) Appeal from Whitley Circuit Court. Opinion by Judge Burnam, reversing.

Infants—Sales of Real Estate.—First—In an action to sell the real estate of an infant, where there was no averment or proof of the value of the infant's interest, or what would probably be realized therefor, and no sufficient proof showing that such sale would benefit the infant, the judgment of the chancellor directing a sale will not be upheld.

Second—Same—In an action to sell the real estate of an infant for the purpose of reinvestment, Subsection 2 of Section 732, Civil Code, and Subsection 3 of Section 36 must be complied with, and the failure to comply with these provisions are such irregularities as render such sale without effect.

Tye & Denham, Johnson & Snyder for appellant; K. D. Perkins for appellee.

Goff vs. Janeway and Carpenter.—Filed September 23, 1904.—(Not to be reported.) Appeal from Daviess Circuit Court. Opinion by Judge Barker, reversing.

First—Sales of Merchandise—Guaranty.—In an action upon a guaranty that the purchase price of goods sold to a dealer shall be paid at the maturity of the indebtedness, judgment and execution had been obtained by the seller against the purchaser and a return of nulla bona, defense was made that at the time of the creation of the indebtedness the buyers were solvent, and that several terms of court had been held after the creation of the indebtedness before the institution of the action to recover against the guarantor and a demurrer having been sustained to this answer interposing such defense, judgment was rendered against the guarantor for the amount of the unpaid indebtedness.

Held—The petition is not defective in that action was not commenced upon the failure of the parties to pay when due or because the petition does not allege notice to the guarantor of the amount of the indebtedness, but it is defective because it fails to allege acceptance of the seller of the guaranty by appellant.

Second—Pleading.—It has been the uniform rule of this court that the total omission of a fact necessary to constitute a cause of action cannot be supplied by referring to an exhibit not copied in the petition, but simply filed, and referred to as part of the pleading, and it was error in the trial court to overrule a demurrer to the petition, it alleging that there was no notice to the guarantor of the creation of the debt, its maturity, or the failure of the buyers to pay.

Wilfred Carico, Little & Slack for appellant; Powers & Anderson for appellee.

Montgomery County vs. Bean, etc.—Filed September 28, 1904.—(Not to be reported.) Appeal from Montgomery Circuit Court. Opinion by Judge O'Rear, affirming.

First—Turnpikes—Use of Land By.—In an action by the devisees of James Bean to recover a lot from Montgomery which had been used as a clubhouse by a turnpike company before the ownership and control of the road had passed to the county, a judgment in favor of the heirs and devisees was proper where it appeared that by the terms of the agreement between James Bean and the company the property should revert to him and his heirs when the company ceased to use it.

Second—Where it was not shown that entries offered in evidence were in books of original entry, kept in the course of business, and those who made the entries were dead, such books and entries were not competent evidence and were properly rejected by the trial court.

Turner & Hazelrigg for appellant; B. F. Day, J. Coleman Reid for appellees.

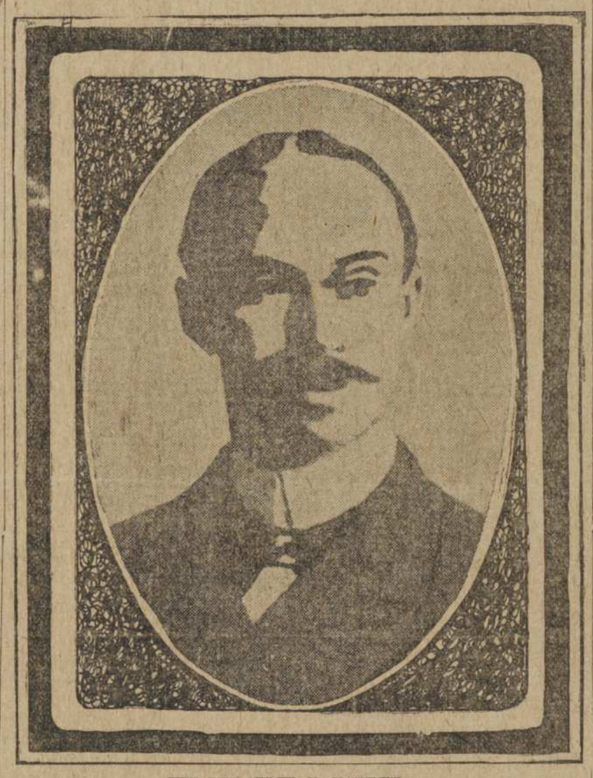
J. C. B. Yates, County Clerk, etc., vs. J. D. Collins.—Filed September 26, 1904. (To be reported.) Appeal from Kenton Circuit Court. Opinion by Judge Settle, reversing.

First—Elections—Voters — Registration—Taxpayers—Authority to Sue—Constitutionality of Amended Act.—In order to carry out the provisions of the act of the General Assembly approved February 11, 1904, entitled "An act to amend an act entitled an act to regulate elections in this Commonwealth," some expense for printing must be incurred by each county of the State which must be paid out of the county levy, and therefore a taxpayer who is a qualified voter has such an interest in the matter as will entitle him to sue to test the constitutionality of said act.

Second—Same.—Section 145 of the Constitution provides the qualification of voters and certain disqualifications. Section 147 provides as follows: "That the General Assembly shall provide by law for the registration of all persons entitled to vote in cities and towns having a population of 5,000 or more, and may provide by general law for the registration of other voters in the State. Where registration is required only persons registered shall have the right to vote. The mode of registration shall be prescribed by the General Assembly." That the State Constitution may prescribe what qualifications shall be possessed by those upon whom it proposes to confer the elective franchise, none will deny. And it is equally true that that instrument may empower the Legislature to prescribe the mode of its exercise, in which case the authority of the latter body to enact such laws as may be necessary to the proper exercise of the power thus conferred cannot be questioned.

Third—Same—The act in our opinion is not open to the criticism that it will tend to disfranchise voters otherwise qualified. The voter is put to no inconvenience in obtaining the registration certificate, it

FORMER LOUISVILLE PASTOR WHO HAS ASSAILED BIBLE



THE REV. FRED V. HAWLEY.

He was, some years ago, pastor of the Church of the Messiah in Louisville. He is now pastor of Unity church, in Chicago, in an article recently published he denies that the Bible is necessary to religious instruction, and thereby has aroused a warm discussion among clergy and laity. Mr. Hawley declares that the Bible contains many stories that are "obscene, inhuman and cruel," and unfit for the reading of children. He also attacks the prevalent methods of instruction in Sunday-schools.

the provision which allows him in the event of its loss to procure another of the County Clerk by filing with that officer his affidavit proving such loss, relieves the voter of the disfranchisement that would otherwise necessarily result from its loss. It is to be taken for granted that the loss will rarely occur except through the fault or neglect of the owner, for which reason it were better to put upon the one in fault the duty of paying the Clerk for the duplicate certificate than to compel the unoffending officer to perform the service without compensation.

Fourth—Same.—The act is not defective in that it fails to provide penalties for its violation, as it is an amendment to the statute in regard to registration already in existence, which contains penalties that will apply to violations of the statute as amended. The fact that such penalties will not cover all offenses that may arise under the statute does not make the amendatory act unconstitutional.

Fifth—Same.—The failure of the act to provide for the issual of original certificates of registration to persons who may be registered by him during the three days of supplemental registration provided by Sections 168, 169, Ky. St., does not affect the validity of the amendment, as such officer may under the amended statute issue to the voters admitted to registration by him, certificates of registration which shall as fully entitle them to vote at the election as if they had been issued by the officers intrusted with the duty of holding the first or regular registration.

Sixth—We are not required to pass upon the policy of its enactment, but as to the constitutionality of the act we have no doubt.

Whole court sitting.

Furber & Jackson and Lewis McQuown for appellant; Burnham W. Vance, D. W. Fairleigh for appellee.

The campaign in Allen county will be opened by the Hon. Nat Porter, who was defeated by James Richardson for the Democratic nomination for Congress from the Third district. Mr. Porter will give much of his time to this campaign and will speak in every county in the district in behalf of Mr. Richardson. Allen county was about evenly divided for the two candidates in the preliminary convention but they are all united now for the nominee.

MANAGERS WELL PLEASED.

Reports of Opening of Campaign Are Favorable.

Reports received at Democratic State headquarters yesterday show that the opening day of the campaign in Kentucky was a brilliant success, even greater than was expected by Judge S. W. Hager. The crowds were all large and the interest shown during the speakings was greater than even the most sanguine predicted. Enthusiasm was shown and the party leaders are all well pleased.

"The opening day was the best we could have expected and the interest was greater than the apathy of the campaign had led us to believe would be shown," said Judge Hager yesterday. "I have received reports from the counties in which the meetings were held yesterday and they all show that the voters took a great interest in the speakings, were present in large numbers, and left better able and willing to fight for the success of the party."

Senator James B. McCreary, R. W. Miller and others who were in Louisville yesterday, report that they had as many hearers as the buildings in which they spoke would accommodate, and they found an enthusiasm and determination that were unexpected. They were delighted with the welcome given them and had nothing about which they could complain.

COUNTY SPEAKING CLUBS

Will Be Organized In Every County In State.

Speaking clubs will be organized in every county in the State and arrangements will be made by the Democratic State Campaign Committee for an active fight through the county organization. Letters are being sent to all the precinct committeemen and county chairmen asking that the speakers' clubs be organized at once and arrangements made for holding meetings in school houses and crossroads as often as possible. The intention is to have the county speakers address small crowds wherever they can be gathered together and in this way reach many voters who would not go to a big county meeting. The campaign committee believes that this plan is better than having large meetings and thinks that more good can be accomplished.

The trustees of the Louisville Free Public Library have been called to meet next Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock to consider the slight changes which were made by the Louisville Public Library in the contract merging the two associations. Makes Gift To Convent.

An artistic and beautiful statue of Our Lady of Lourdes, executed by a native sculptor at Carrara, Italy, has been presented to St. Catherine's Convent of Mercy by M. Muldoon. It will be installed in the chapel of the convent at 1152 East Broadway. The gift is highly appreciated, and will form an interesting feature of the interior decoration of the chapel. It is carved from pure Carrara marble.
